

SIX NAVAL PRISONERS FREE, FIGHT

Guards At Mare Island Training Station Barracks Are Overpowered, Rifles Seized and Brisk Battle Waged

Fugitives Surrender After All-Day Chase and Firing in Which One of Pursuing Party Is Badly Wounded

While an aroused countryside in scores of automobiles on the highway near Cordelia looked on, twenty-five United States marines overseas veterans deployed as skirmishers, charged in the face of rifle fire and captured six armed escaped Mare Island naval prisoners in the tules and marsh land twenty-two miles from Vallejo last night at 7 o'clock. The prisoners were taken back to the island prison in chains.

Private Albert Sussman, who was shot through the hand and chest when he coolly walked up to the youthful deserters, is recovering at the naval hospital at Mare Island.

Captain E. L. Beach, commander of Mare Island, made a confidential report to the secretary of the navy today and refused to comment on the escape and capture of the six general prisoners.

The prisoners at 3 o'clock yesterday morning broke from their jail, overpowered two guards, seized rifles and ammunition and carried the guards off to the highway. Three of them in a gasoline launch. Their names are Howard G. Scott, K. Albert, E. W. Rice, R. Hammill, H. C. Hermanson and C. D. Liss. One of the guards, escaped to Vallejo and returning east by train.

FUGITIVES BOAST OF THEIR ESCAPE

With seventy-five armed men, in three parties, under command of Captain Glenn E. Hayes, U. S. M. C., pursuing the country between Vallejo and Sacramento all day yesterday, the six deserters, with rifles slung over their shoulders, were prancing along the highway. Hayes, who was in a motor car, was driving out to every passing auto, according to travelers. Motorists, who saw the men, were told that they were fugitives.

When they came to the junction of the Cordelia and Benicia highways, a crowd of automobiles, which had been following them, stopped and watched two trucks stopped and unloaded the detachment of picked and seasoned Marines.

As the crowd on the highway raised a cry on seeing them, the six prisoners dashed into a corn field and fled until they were stopped by the waters of the Thracian river. They then laid down in a ditch in the corn field and three others took up a position under an old wooden bridge.

MARINES CHARGE AND CAPTURE MEN

Deploying as skirmishers into a crescent, with rifles at the charge the Marines at the direction of Captain Hayes began to close in. Three of the prisoners opened fire. Shooting over the deserters' heads the Marines dashed forward with steel-jacketed bullets whistling through the ranks and quickly overpowered the six men. Three of the prisoners had thrown down their arms when the detachment charged. In disarming the other three Private Sussman was shot. The attacking party was composed of A. E. F. men.

Sheriff McDonald's posse, following the right-winded automobiles on the highway with the rest of the crowd, ready to join in the combat at a signal from Captain Hayes. All six of the deserters reported facing general courts-martial on various charges, three of which were said to be of a very serious nature. The prison in which the men were kept is a low frame building connecting with a wharf near the water. The men having carefully laid their arms, broke into the adjoining guard room, overpowered two guards and seized twelve rifles and ammunition.

Driving the guards before them, they entered a small gasoline launch at the nearby wharf and went to South Vallejo. They there released the guard, or he was from them, and the launch turned to the island and fled. A general alarm was turned in and the searching party was sent out.

Captain Hayes and his detachment had been scouring the country for fifty miles around all day when the information that the men were at Cordelia was received.

Cline in Hudson Is Hill Climb Winner

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. COLORADO SPRINGS, Sept. 6.—Albert M. Cline, driver of a Hudson special, completed the hill-climbing race on Pike's Peak today in 22:30.04, or the lowest time so far reported. A number of the cars have not yet finished the climb. The special, driven by Capt. W. A. Flat, started last night in making the final curve, but finished the race with reduced speed. His time was 22:17.

DOCTORS O. K. DEMPSEY AND MISKE FOR BOUT

Sun Comes Out and Turns Arena Into as Turkish Bath as Throng Assembles; Fighters Go on Scales

CHAMP 187, CHALLENGER 189

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. RINGSIDE, BENTON HARBOR, Mich., Sept. 6.—The sandpit arena, where Jack Dempsey defended his world's heavyweight title last afternoon against Billy Miske of St. Paul, was a steaming vapor bath when the gates opened. An all-night rain and a morning drizzle gave way noon afternoon to hot weather and the sun rolled the vapor from the soaked sand floor. Dempsey and Miske both were pronounced fit for their rounds after medical examination by the Michigan State Boxing Commission.

DEMPSEY WEIGHS IN AT 187, MISKE AT 189.

Dempsey weighed 187 pounds about five hours before the fight and Miske 189. The high priced ticket holders remained down town, jamming the streets, clamoring for the sandwiches and coffee from street quick-lunch booths.

Bentley Harbor police and a rate of $15 a pint effectively enforced the prohibition laws. Incommoded spectators reported that night trains had been not only wide open for selling drinks, but that in some cars they were known to be selling various kinds of gambling flourishes. The big crowds were good-natured and often sleepy-eyed, having arrived so late in the night. Their brief sleep cost about $2 an hour.

The local police force was supplemented by a detachment of Michigan state constabulary.

SOLDIERS ON LEAVE KEEP ORDER BY ARENA.

At the arena squads of uniformed soldiers on leave from Camp Custer officiated as ushers and kept order. His fences surrounded by barbed wire surrounded the sections from the sand pit saucer and husky guards were on duty at the turnstiles prepared to prevent a repetition of the spectacle at Toledo last year, when hundreds of spectators with common accord swarmed into the ringside and refused to be ousted.

As the main gates were thrown open and the fight fans began drifting in workers were still busy completing preparations in the ring.

Start of the preliminaries was long delayed awaiting the arrival of several trains from Chicago.

ARENA FILLED HALF HOUR BEFORE FIRST FIGHT.

At 2:30, a half hour before the first preliminary was scheduled to start, the arena was filled.

Umbrellas carried by women spectators in anticipation of a renewal of the morning rain storm stood them in good stead and helped ward off the sun. The impromptu shades dotted the arena.

Long before the first preliminary, the crowd packed into all except a few spaces of the arena, gave promise of a rich purse for the fighters.

Promoter Floyd Fitzsimmons estimated that a full attendance would bring a gate of about $200,000.

Italian Labor Plans to Seize All Industry

Metal Works Occupancy First Move in Plot of Communist Leaders.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—Seizure of Italian factories by metal workers as the starting point of a general strike of the country was advocated by Italian extremists at the meeting of the heads of the general federation of labor and the metal workers' union and representatives of the Italian Communist party.

A despatch to the Daily Mail from that city. Moderates attending the meeting have insisted upon an agreement with employers as long as the government does not interfere. No decision on the matter has yet been reported.

WORKERS HOLD FACTORIES AND DEFY TROOPS.

In the meantime workers are in possession of virtually all metal claims from employers for the last few days.

Despatches say, have announced that if troops are used in an attempt to drive them out of factories, they will wreck all machinery.

Italian despatches to the Herald labor organ, have decided that all factories which deny them necessary materials will be occupied. The despatches quote a Communist newspaper as saying if the government interferes a general strike will follow.

MADRID FORBIDS SOVIET LABOR TO HOLD MEETINGS.

MADRID, Sept. 6.—A Communist demonstration announced for today in this city was forbidden by government action taken by the minister of interior after a Communist meeting was held yesterday.

Despatches from Moscow, favoring Soviet Russia were adopted. The executive committee of the junior workmen announced that railwaymen will declare a strike if the government permits the railroad companies to increase rates.

DESPATCH PUTS NEW FACE ON LABOR TROUBLES.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—The Italian news item here print a communication from the Italian ambassador Baron Avezana, concerning the workmen's agitation in Italy. It says:

"In consequence of a shortage of raw materials, lack of coal and high cost of labor, the metallurgical industries decided to effect a lockout. Following this decision the workers seized the factories and Genoa, the strike was declared. The government permitted the lockout and to operate the factories, directly."

"Such a move is a new form of struggle between capital and labor, but it is not a strike. It is a lockout, inasmuch as the strike is involving only the metallurgical industry."

G. H. Mastick, Veteran of Bar, Dies in Alameda

Former Partner of Judge Van Fleet Is Stricken in His Home.

ALAMEDA, Sept. 6.—George H. Mastick, veteran lawyer, died suddenly, at his home at 330 Pacific avenue, after an illness of only a few hours.

Mastick, who was 64, was a brother of Mrs. Oils, wife of Mayor Frank Oils of Alameda. He had been in good health for some time.

Born in San Francisco in 1856, he came to Alameda with his family in 1882. He was a member of the University of California and in the first class to be graduated by Hastings Law College.

Formerly Mastick was a partner of Judge William Van Fleet. At the time of his death he was senior partner in the San Francisco firm of Mastick and Partridge and was an active practitioner. He was a member of the Bohemian Club in San Francisco.

Mastick was rated as one of Alameda's most civic active citizens, having been once instrumental in obtaining the Carnegie Library from the Carnegie Foundation.

He also was a member of the board of freeholders. His widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Spencer Mastick, was married 21 years.

George Jr. and Spencer Mastick and Mrs. Ira Clerk of Sacramento, survive. Beside Mrs. Oils, brothers of Portland, Ore., Lincoln Mastick, of Teoman, Wash., Mrs. Ira Hyde, Princeton, Mo., and Miss Mary L. Mastick of Kansas City. There are six grandchildren.

The funeral will be held at the home Wednesday at 2:30.

One Killed, Two Shot When Sheriffs Err

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. SEATTLE, Sept. 6.—John J. Donovan, a special deputy sheriff, died today when he was shot by a deputy sheriff, who was probably fatally wounded here today as the result of a quarrel over a cap in a dance pavilion south of Seattle.

In a fight between two gangs of youths started when a cap was accidentally hurled into a dancer's face, the deputy sheriff mistook each other in the darkness and opened fire. Faull was standing nearby.

NINE DEAD, 5 MISSING IN KLAMATH

Flames Sweep Block, Burn Hotel, Rooming House and Opera House; Roomers Are Trapped by Fire, Killed

Ruins Flooded and Searched in Effort to Determine the Extent of Holocaust; Babe Flung to Safety by Woman

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., Sept. 6.—(By Associated Press).—Firemen working in the ruins estimated that at least twenty-five bodies are still within the smoldering debris. Heat has prevented recovery of the bodies.

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., Sept. 6.—Nine persons are known dead, five missing and several others are believed to be dead as a result of a fire which destroyed the Houston Hotel, a rooming house and a theater, doing a quarter million dollars' damage here early today.

The fire started in the theater, which was a two-story building. The fire spread to the rooming house and the Houston Hotel, which was a three-story building.

MRS. C. BILDERBACK, Ashland, Miss LEONA BILDERBACK, Ashland, and MARGARET HANLEY, chambermaid.

The injured include H. McCarries, William Morse, Thomas Higgins, James Porter, the latter from Madera, Cal.

Firemen are drenching the smoldering ruins with water in an effort to cool them off sufficiently to permit further search for bodies. It is believed it possible more dead may be buried in the ashes.

SEARCH MAY INCREASE CASUALTY LISTS.

The city was crowded with workmen and others who had come to Klamath Falls for the big Labor Day celebration today. While the Houston Hotel, where the dead were found, normally accommodates fifty persons, it was believed that approximately 100 were registered there last night. Police and volunteers are attempting to make a check this morning which may reveal a still heavier loss of life.

Fire spread to the Hendrich apartment house and the Argaves rooming house, which were also destroyed, as were six residences.

Mrs. W. B. Barnes, who conducted the Houston rooming house, believes the death toll will reach at least fifteen and perhaps twenty.

The guests of the hotel, which was a tall wooden frame structure and burned rapidly, were trapped within the hotel and were unable to escape. Many died.

Mrs. Mary Camora was on the first floor of the hotel with her five-day-old baby. She rushed to a front window and threw the child, unharmed, to the waiting arms of firemen. Then she leaped and now is in the hospital among the injured.

DEAD WOMEN AMONG THE YOUNG DEAD.

The known dead include four women. Owing to the confusion and the loss of the hotel records the names of the dead have not been definitely established thus far.

The fire started at 3 a. m. in a rubbish pile in the rear of the hotel, the fire spreading to the hotel. The flames leaped the street, burning the rooming house opposite the hotel. Several buildings in addition to the hotel, rooming house and the theater were damaged.

Langford Hit Hard by Tate In First Three

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. RINGSIDE, BENTON HARBOR, Mich., Sept. 6.—Bill Tate of New York, Dempsey's sparring partner, had the best of Sam Langford in the first six rounds preliminary. Tate outboxed the veteran, Langford keeping him away with rangy lefts to the left. Langford weighed 194 and Tate scaled 230 pounds.

RINGSIDE, BENTON HARBOR, Mich., Sept. 6.—Bill Tate and Sam Langford, negro heavyweights, got started 2:30.

Throughout the first round Tate was using his long left to Sam's face without causing much trouble to the Boston tar baby. Langford was trying to get the body with his right, landing solidly once or twice and was immediately clinching. It was Tate's round.

In the first three rounds, Tate piled up a nice lead on points. He delivered a series of blows, hitting him continually in the face and following up occasionally with a right to the same place. Langford's only chance was at infighting, and practically the only blows he landed were rights to the kidneys. Neither fighter was inflicting much damage.

Russ Refugee Children Given Wilson's Photo

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—Greetings and autographed photographs from the President and Mrs. Wilson were delivered to the 240 Russian refugee children now quarantined at Fort Wadsworth, at a Junior Red Cross reception today. James M. Rule, national director of the junior organization, said that the White House message was sent, read it to the youngsters.

TEN KILLED, FIFTY HURT IN CAR CRASH

Electric Trains Running At Fifty Miles Hour Collide On Curve in Globeville, a Suburb of Denver, Colo.

Cars Are Teleported by the Impact and All Ambulances of City Are Sent to Remove Victims of the Disaster

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. DENVER, Sept. 6.—Ten persons were killed and fifty hurt when two electric cars in Globeville, a suburb of this city, today.

Both cars are said to have been running fifty miles an hour when they collided. The accident occurred near Fifty-sixth and Washington streets.

The injured are being brought to hospitals here. The city's ambulances were sent to the scene and the task of removing the dead and injured was begun.

The cars collided on a curve and were practically telescoped. One of the cars was en route from Denver to Boulder, Colo., while the second was coming to Denver from Boulder.

With an impact heard for blocks, accompanied by the grinding of brakes and the screams of the injured, the big coaches smashed together. The Boulder coach plowed fifteen feet into the front of the out-bound coach. The cars were so badly telescoped that their front ends were a mass of wreckage.

Those in the front part of the coaches were enmeshed in the wreckage, and great difficulty was encountered by rescuers in bringing out the dead and injured.

At offices of the railroad company it was announced that the out-bound car was a special to El Dorado, a mountain pleasure resort, and had the right of way. Lawrence C. Crisp, chairman on that car, was instantly killed.

The bodies of the coaches were jammed on the front tracks and the dead were torn away by the impact. As the crowd gathered, both cars were killed, the reason they rounded the curve of fifty miles an hour has not been learned. Chief of Police Hamilton Armstrong and military authorities rushed to the scene. The military took charge of the situation, as the city has been under their control for nearly a month, due to the strike of employees of the City Trust Company.

Chief Armstrong said he knew that eight dead had been removed from the telescoped coaches.

Soviet Incites Lithuanians to State of War

WARSAW, Sept. 6.—Attempts at peaceful settlement of the Polish-Lithuanian boundary controversy have been abandoned, it was announced here today.

Lithuanians have continued their advance into Polish territory, occupying Augustow.

The Polish commission which was attempting to settle the Lithuanian troubles was broken off negotiations, an official statement said today.

Returning here, the commissioners reported that the Lithuanians had received orders to occupy Augustow.

The Polish commission, with machine guns and artillery, in the region of Augustow, 20 miles northwest of the Polish frontier, reports from the northern front. Reports declare the attack was unprovoked, and that the Lithuanians had received orders to occupy Augustow.

RUSS INSPIRE ATTACK BY LITHUANIAN TROOPS.

WARSAW, Sept. 6.—(By the Associated Press).—An attack on Polish forces by the Lithuanians, with machine guns and artillery, in the region of Augustow, 20 miles northwest of the Polish frontier, reports from the northern front.

The statement says the Lithuanians have crossed the Curzon line, the tentative Polish boundary drawn by the allies without declaring war.

The Poles, asserting the Lithuanians were compelled to defend themselves, opened fire first.

LITHUANIA REFUSES TO RECOGNIZE CURZON LINE.

WARSAW, Sept. 6.—Lithuania has replied to the Polish charge that Lithuanian forces had crossed the Curzon boundary line without declaring war.

The Lithuanians say they do not recognize the lines of demarcation fixed by Earl Curzon and Marshal Tardieu, but are ready to cease hostilities and negotiate a new line.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—The Polish government has despatched a note to Lithuania, "the tenor of which amounts to an ultimatum," says a Warsaw despatch to the London Times today. The note says that unless Lithuania halts the southward movement of her troops Poland will be forced to consider that a state of war exists between the two countries. A full statement of the case has been forwarded to the League of Nations.

It is reported that the Lithuanians already have occupied Augustow, 20 miles southeast of Suwalki.

Unofficial Returns Give Liberal Leader Decisive Victory At Polls.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. MEXICO CITY, Sept. 6.—General Alvaro Obregon, candidate of the liberal constitutional party, won a decisive victory in the presidential elections held throughout the republic yesterday, according to scattering unofficial advices. His opponent was Alfredo Robles Dominguez, who was nominated by the National Republican party. The vote is reported to have been extremely light and no reports of disorders have been received.

Reports that changes in the cabinet were imminent were denied last night by Miguel Aleman Robles, private secretary to Provisional President De La Huerta.

MEXICALI, Lower California, Sept. 6.—Voters in the northern district of Lower California cast their ballots for Mexican presidential candidates yesterday. No disorders were reported from any point in the district and nothing was made public last night as to the result of the vote.

Seven Persons Are Injured in Auto Collision

SEVEN persons, three of them women, were injured early today at East Fourteenth street and Junction road when two autos collided, completely wrecking the two machines.

One machine was driven by Jim Alcorn, mechanic in a Webster-street garage, and carried six passengers. The other car was driven by Tom Silva of San Lorenzo and was the only occupant of the machine.

The injured, Jim Alcorn, Tom Silva, Gladys and Alice Radney, 3513 West street; Agnes Brown, 1113 Peralta street; M. Scott, 624 Thirtieth street; C. McCarron, 963 Thirtieth street. The injuries of two of the women were said to be serious.

De Palma Out of Race; Coram Hurt

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. UNIONTOWN, Pa., Sept. 6.—Ralph De Palma did not participate in the 225-mile annual automobile race here this afternoon, due to broken pistons, which snapped while he was tuning up an hour before the race. In warming up, L. Coram's car skidded and crashed on the guard rail. He was slightly injured and out of the race. The race started at 3 o'clock.

Ralph Mulford, driver of a Paige special title holder in the 1916 hill-climbing contest on Pike's Peak, was wrecked at the fourteen-mile post by skidding off the road. He was uninjured.

A blinding snowstorm set in shortly before the hour for starting the contest. A high wind was blowing and there was a marked drop in the temperature.

PUT BOYCOTT ON ENGLAND; WIFE'S PLEA

Muriel MacSwiney Urges An Economic Fight As Protest Against Imprisonment of the Dying Lord Mayor

Hurried Summons Is Sent to Relatives As the Prisoner Grows Weaker; the Trades Union Demands Release

LONDON, Sept. 6.—At 8 o'clock tonight there had been no change in the condition of Mayor MacSwiney. The hunger-striking prisoner is not expected to live through the night.

BY UNITED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. LONDON, Sept. 6.—Muriel MacSwiney, wife of the dying lord mayor of Cork, today addressed a message to Irish sympathizers throughout the world, urging an economic boycott of England.

Mrs. MacSwiney suggested that workers refuse to handle English shipping and that all consumers cease purchasing English-made goods. She declared such action would "force England to conform to the elementary principles of justice in her treatment of Ireland."

Mrs. MacSwiney received a hurried summons to Cork today. Her husband late this afternoon. She was informed that MacSwiney was in the weakest condition he has yet been in since he started his hunger strike twenty days ago. She hastened to Brixton jail.

MacSwiney was reported to be "weaker" this afternoon and physicians at Brixton prison advised him to consent to a strike by not talking with his relatives.

His sister, Mary, spent six hours at his bedside, while his wife was with him throughout the afternoon. TRADES UNION CONGRESS DEMANDS RELEASE.

PORTSMOUTH, England, Sept. 6.—A resolution demanding the release of Terence MacSwiney, hunger striking lord mayor of Cork, from Brixton jail was adopted today by the Trades Union Congress.

The MacSwiney resolution recited that the "Trades Union Congress, representing 6,500,000 workers," decided to demand the release of the lord mayor.

Full dominion home rule in Ireland was demanded by J. H. Thomas, British labor leader, in the opening address at the Congress.

Thomas said that for the first time united and determined workers were ready to challenge the order of parliamentary proceedings.

"I do not doubt that if the constitution is definitely challenged," he said, "this would be dangerous, but it would be justified by the result."

PLANS TO ROUND UP SINN FEIN LEADERS.

DUBLIN, Sept. 6.—The Sinn Fein "intelligence bureau" announced today that the British government planned a great round-up of Sinn Fein leaders. Warrants are reported to have been drawn up for many Sinn Fein chiefs who are suspected of being involved in the death of Mayor MacSwiney. Raids on an unprecedented scale are contemplated by Dublin Castle, according to the Sinn Fein.

Announcement of the government's intention to use Ulster volunteers to police Belfast, the execution of the plan has been postponed indefinitely. It was learned here.

NO RIGHTS IN CASE, SAYS U. S.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—Peter MacSwiney, brother of the Lord Mayor of Cork, has made a copy of a letter which he stated he had received from the State Department at Washington. The letter, dated August 24, said:

"In reply I beg to inform you that from precedent established in cases of this kind the department finds it is not in a position to make protestations to the British authorities against the arrest and imprisonment of one who, like your brother, is not a citizen of the United States."

"I beg to remain, sir, very respectfully, your obedient servant," "For the Secretary of State."

Cox Declares League Would Conserve Interest of Labor

The big inspiration in life is to get on. When men tell you this is the privilege of the few they challenge your intelligence. "I am sorry the old, intimate contact between employer and employee is gone. I wish we could have the intimacy restored, not in the old way, but through a joint committee of employers and employees not to run the business but to promote and maintain the mutual interest of both." Herein lies the surest remedy for our ills. We cannot have compulsory arbitration because all parties must consent to establish arbitration and enforce its conclusions. I think we can have, and ought to have, voluntary arbitration. The best thought of the day compends this way to settlement.

CUMMINGS-ESCH BILL IS ENDORSED

This brings me to the subject of railway legislation and the enactment of the Cummings-Esch bill restoring the railroads to the lawful owners. I am well aware that many earnest railway workers and advocates of the social plan to take the railroads and put them under the operation of the employees but that was not keeping faith with America or American promises. We were bound to make the return of the railroads to the additional reason that I do not believe in government ownership.

"I do not pretend to say the railroads act is perfect, indeed I know it is not. It does not guarantee dividends it limits them. It did make a six months' guarantee but that was to enable the stupendous financing of reconstruction. Public workers are made a preferred class and the government has singled out railway workers to see that their just treatment is a matter of public pledge. This is progress.

NO ANTI-STRIKE CLAUSE CONTAINED

"This law does not contain an anti-strike clause. It does not interfere with collective bargaining; on the contrary it facilitates it.

"I want to see profiteering isolated and punishment given. It is a moral wrong and an economic robbery, dealing with petty offenders, does not deeply impress the country and sugar agreements which add a billion to our sugar bills for a year do not encourage us to hold their jobs."

MINNESOTA STATE FAIR GROUNDS, Sept. 6.—Labor and agriculture were discussed here today by Governor Cox of Ohio and he declared that interests of both would be served by success of the League of Nations. Measures to increase farm production, acreage and labor supply were advocated by the Democratic candidate and for collective bargaining by labor. He also pledged himself specifically to increase salaries for postal employees. The governor's address at the State Fair was the first of three scheduled here today on his visit to St. Paul and Minneapolis on his western tour.

Interests of labor and agriculture, Governor Cox declared to his fair ground audience are intertwined and interdependent.

Referring to the League of Nations with a statement that it was not a political question except when turned to partisan uses, Governor Cox continued:

LABOR VITALY INTERESTED IN PLAN

"Labor is vitally interested in the plan of readjustment which will be adopted. There are those who think the answer to present difficulties lies in the adoption of plans of the past; that progress has gone too far. I am not of that class. I think that the solution is in the dawn of a new day when the human soul and the human body shall count for more than the so-called dollar.

"Labor should have the right to organize and through representatives of their own choosing negotiate collective bargaining. This right has never been denied capital. Care must be exercised that government at no time be made oppressive in maintaining the laws of the land. I have said that public opinion will settle industrial disputes and to this end believe the government should provide for proper investigation in all cases, with provision for the settling of the facts without prejudice, so that the public may have full information. The right to free speech and free press and the right of orderly assembly, guaranteed by the constitution, must never be infringed.

The governor also reiterated his advocacy of federal regulation of food storage, declaring that it would break the circle of profiteering.

BEAVERS DAUB WHITEWASH ON GRAHAM'S SEALS

Slim Love and Kallio, San Francisco and Portland heavers, respectively, were sent to the mound this morning at the Oakland Ball Park. The Beavers started after Slim's offerings in the second frame, when Cox called one, sender for three bases and made the grade of home a few seconds later on Cliff Schaller's sacrifice fly. The final score was 1 to 0.

HUBBARD WILL BE MUSEUM CURATOR

Samuel Hubbard, director of the Oakland Free Library, probably will be named curator of the Oakland Museum to succeed Mrs. D. W. Vere, resigned. Although the place is conceded to Hubbard, confirmation has yet to be given by the board of library trustees. This action may be taken at the regular meeting tomorrow night.

Mrs. De Vere resigned several weeks ago, leaving for the Atlantic seaboard. She is now located at Douglas, Minn. The name of Hubbard, who represents one of California's pioneer families, has been prominently mentioned for the place since the vacancy occurred. He has been a member of the library board for some months. The Hubbard home is at 285 Lee street.

The appointment is an important one in view of the plans which are being made by the city to extend the scope of the Oakland Museum.

Auto Hits Pole, Two Boys Badly Hurt

LIVERMORE, Sept. 6.—The 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Shoop of Turlock suffered a fracture of the skull and another son received severe lacerations and bruises last evening when their automobile collided with a telephone pole at the west end of First street in front of Carlo M. Bosso's place. The family was motoring from Turlock to Oakland and the driver evidently did not notice the square turn in the road at this point not being familiar with the road. The boy with the fractured skull was taken to the Alameda sanitarium while his brother is under treatment here at Mrs. Ayward's sanitarium. The parents were not much injured.

Landers Stevens to Enter Filmland

Landers Stevens, Oakland actor and former theater owner, has forsaken the legitimate stage to join the movie colony near Los Angeles. He has completed two films in which an all star cast appears and is preparing to begin work on a third. According to his family here Stevens' affiliation with the silver screen is permanent.

Within a few weeks the first film "The Price of Redemption" with Bert Lytell in the principal role and Stevens cast for a prominent part will be shown in this city. The New York studio is at present preparing for the release and production. George Cooper, wife of Landers Stevens, will follow her husband into the movies.

POLICE IN NEW ROLE; ENVOY OF DOMESTIC PEACE

Patrolmen of the Oakland police department this morning took a new job. They became reconcilers of domestic war.

E. L. Lauderdale of 1649 Seaton street had an argument as to who was to have the honor of giving his bib an using. He didn't want the job and neither did his wife. There was a stormy scene during which Mrs. Lauderdale picked up a bottle of poison and with a flourish, placed it in her mouth.

Lauderdale called for the ambulance. The police arrived. With the husband refusing to take a hospital patient and said she hadn't taken any poison anyhow. The police stood around while the matter was being argued and finally suggested a truce.

"Cut it out," suggested the police.

We will, said the Lauderdale.

The Right Price for Quality Furs

In the raw fur market skins are carefully graded, so correctly and expertly that furriers buy thousands of dollars' worth of pelts from a few samples.

These skins are next dressed, many of them dyed, before being manufactured into garments—this is again expert work, demanding care and time.

Some fur garments are made up of many small skins. That such garments may please you and give good wear, accurate matching, piecing and sewing by skilled workmen is necessary.

The woman who buys the furs cannot know what grademark classified the raw pelts, the processes by which they were dressed and prepared for the market, the quality of workmanship that went into making up the garment.

For these reasons Furs should be bought only from a Reliable First-Class Fur House

We deal only in furs that stand the test of time. We carry a wide line of furs differing largely in value—skunk and opossum for instance—but we do not carry inferior grades. Our furs represent an investment, and no matter what kind of fur you are buying, the QUALITY IS SECURE and the PRICE IS RIGHT!

We have now ready for your inspection advanced models in neck pieces, shoulder throws, capes and coats. Prices on both single pieces and coats are very advantageous. An early selection is advised.

New Fall Suits, Coats, Dresses Liberal Credit Terms

The showings here are splendidly complete—and what's more—PRICES ARE LOWER!

In order to induce early choosing of furs, we are making unusually attractive credit terms this month.

OAKLAND "DOLLAR DAY" -- WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 15

'FACTS TOLD,' SAYS WAYS TO ATTACK

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—Will Hays, chairman of the Republican national committee, issued a statement today in reply to Governor Cox's attack on the truthfulness of his testimony before the senate committee investigating campaign contributions. The statement said:

"According to the public reports Governor Cox yesterday made, the following accusation against me personally:

"I charge that Will Hays perpetrated a deliberate falsehood when he said under oath that there were no quotas."

"In my written statement read to the senate committee on August 30, in Chicago I said:

"Tentative quotas have been suggested by the treasurer's office, all tentative and subject to change, and of course, for the particular state to drive for, and changing conditions."

"At different periods different quotas have been suggested by the treasurer's office as tentative goals in different states and the state committees have been asked to drive for them. These, as above suggested, are changing constantly, and always, of course, were made very much higher than either necessary or attainable."

"The fact is, the quotas meant to be furthered, whatever they may have been, suggested as quotas by the treasurer's office, and the state committees in different localities, the fact remains that a certain amount was believed necessary, and the budget above referred to was indicated before the committee on August 30, for the use of the national committee. When this amount was used as a budget, that became the one level for the treasurer to reach, and the purpose became definite."

"The fact at all times remains that the treasurer is driving to collect enough and no more than enough to meet the necessary expenses, estimated to be something in excess of three million dollars."

"These are the facts. Let the public judge as to the truth or falsity of Governor Cox's accusation. It has the same reckless irresponsibility as his claim of $15,000,000. Further comment on the reliability of his statements is unnecessary."

Dr. Colvin to Speak Here Wednesday Night

Dr. Leigh Colvin, prohibition candidate for Vice-President, will speak Wednesday night at State hall, 329 Twelfth street. Dr. Colvin was born in Ohio. He has been a candidate for the United States Senate from New York and for the majority of New York on the prohibition ticket.

Dr. Colvin has been prominently identified with the national temperance and prohibition organizations and is president and organizer for the college civic movement in the United States. He is secretary of the National Legislative Conference, vice-president of the National Temperance Council and vice-president of the World Prohibition Federation. Dr. Colvin, with the rank of captain in the United States army, who was assigned to address the soldiers in the promotion of patriotism.

FALLS THREE STORIES, DIES.
PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 6.—James Anderson, 32, dropped from a third floor window of the Jefferson Hotel here last night. His body

Voila! as they say in the fashion wheezes—Voila! I arrive!

—Geraldine—have come—with a hunch! Extend an ear, prepare to absorb information—LISTEN TO ME AND MY HUNCH!

Who of it?

Only a fool.

A fool who has sat in the sun and blown bubbles.

And gotten jolly well sunburned.

The bubbles have all gone away. But I remember the sunburn.

Therefore, if you, too, have been sunburned (and it's dollars to doughnuts you have) we can talk with ease of blisters.

A fool who has tried and lost. But who also has gambled and won.

So we may discuss cheerfully the joys of losing and the pains of gain.

Only a fool I—Geraldine! Knowing those things that a fool may know—laughter, love, dreams, fairy tales—foolishness, froth and a good bit about family rows and other chronic ailments.

I have made friends with the wag of a puppy dog's tail—the fluff on a baby's head—the twinkle in wise old eyes.

And now I have come TO MAKE FRIENDS WITH YOU. THAT IS MY HUNCH.

I have gone hither and yon and back again and in the end have learned only this: That I am a fool. That love is great. That the poorest ground may grow garlic for a king's soup.

So, knowing little but laughing much I have come. Will you have me?

We shall sit together on the edge of the world and pass the time of day.

You shall talk to me and I shall talk back. You may learn very little but you will forget much—which is the best part of most wisdom.

Is your one wife one too many?

Tell me about it.

Is your husband or your complexion growing dull? Let us then discuss the value of soft soap on complexion—and husbands.

Do you wish to hang the parlor curtains, or your neighbor's wife, turn the door mat into a stew—put a retread on the chariot wheels of love—propose for the first time—or evade a breach of promise for the fiftieth—let's hear about it.

Whether you are fourteen or forty—blond, brunette or orange crush—in for life or out on parole while paying alimony—it matters not.

I wait at the end of the world to blow bubbles with you.

You have wanted a friend. I'm I!

Will you come?

Then—cry on Geraldine's shoulders.

Hoover for Harding in Farm Auto Tour

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6.—At least one-half of the Western farmers who formerly voted the Democratic ticket will vote for Harding and Coolidge this year according to former Mayor Harry White of Seattle, who is on his way home from a tour of Washington, Oregon, Wyoming, the Dakotas, Montana and Idaho. White says that Herbert Hoover is making a tour of the farming communities by automobile, that he is learning their needs and that his suggestions will be made the basis for legislation by the Republican administration.

White predicts a sweeping Republican victory in November.

He struck the sidewalk and he was instantly killed. Anderson arrived in Portland September 3 from Alaska.

PROTECT U. S. IN LEAGUE: HARDING

MARION O., Sept. 6.—After an extended conference with Senator Harding, George Wickersham, a former Republican attorney-general and an advocate of the League of Nations, issued a statement declaring that the League of Nations is a wholly and finally rejected league, but would take the lead in revising the covenant and putting it into practical operation.

"The Senator recognizes," Wickersham added, "that the league is so interwoven with the fortunes of Europe that its unobjectionable features must be preserved to stabilize European peace."

From Senator Harding himself there was no expression on the subject, but it was indicated that in the near future he might make a public statement detailing his precise stand with regard to acceptance of any portion of the covenant as it was written.

"When President Harding, working in accord with a Republican Congress, takes up the work of placing upon a firm, just and sure foundation, the relation of this country to the other nations of the world, I am confident that the logic of accomplished fact will lead to the adoption of the league which was rejected in a debate with his opponent, and would express his views in his own way as occasion offered."

Tomorrow Senator Harding will deliver a Labor Day address here and on Tuesday he will leave for Minnesota to make his first speech outside Ohio since his nomination. Plans provide for a call at Chicago on Major-General Leonard Wood.

Senator Harding also refrained from discussing the categorical questions about the league which were addressed to him by Governor Cox last night in his Milwaukee speech.

The Republican nominee said he proposed to maintain his policy of not engaging in a debate with his opponent and would express his views in his own way as occasion offered.

HEAL SKIN DISEASES

Apply Zemo, Clean, Penetrating, Antiseptic Liquid

It is unnecessary for you to suffer with eczema, blotches, ringworm, rashes and similar skin troubles. Zemo, obtained at any drug store for 35¢, or $1.00 for extra large bottle, and promptly applied will usually give instant relief from itching torture. It cleanses and soothes the skin and heals quickly and effectively most skin diseases.

Zemo is a wonderful, penetrating, disappearing liquid and is soothing to the most delicate skin. It is not greasy, is easily applied and costs little. Get it today and save all further distress.

The Letters of Tessie and Joe

Joe is a traveling salesman. Tessie is his loving wife. Follow their letters in The OAKLAND TRIBUNE.

DEAR JOE: You ought to be here last night. Or that is to say, it's a good thing you wasn't, because it always gets your goat to watch me play poker. There was quite a crowd here—Mr. and Mrs. Brennan, and Fred Sparks and May Dixon (they are officially engaged now and their soft stuff is enough to give you the indigestion), and Mrs. Fink. I didn't have any need for the talking machine so I suggested a game of poker. My luck always seems to disappear when I play poker. That's what I remarked last night, and Mrs. Fink says, "It ain't your luck, that disappears, Tessie, it's your common sense." Can you imagine that, Joe? She thinks she knows something about the game and it makes her furiously jealous when I get ahead of her. I did let her steal one pot from me just to keep the pace. She called me, and I had two pairs, aces up, and she only had kings up but she grabbed the pot anyway just because I'd opened it with nothing but a pair of tens. Don't you hate people that makes a scene about technicalities, Joe? I was sorry afterwards I said anything about my opener. As I say, I let her get away with that, being a guest, but when she claimed a foul on my deal just because she had one card more than anybody else, and me with four kings, it was too much. Why did she accept the card if it was so detrimental to her? I simply couldn't give in, and she made so much noise trying to carry her point, and the others raised such a racket laughing at her that the baby woke up and yelled so on his own account that we couldn't go on with the game. I brought the baby in and everybody said it was the living image of you, especially when it cried, but they advised me not to worry any, because babies change over night and generally the funnest looking ones grow up the prettiest. Your loving wife TESSIE.

Parties Are Planned in Farewell

Informal affairs in the nature of farewell parties are to be given this week in honor of Miss Dorothy Allen, daughter of Mrs. George Morgan of New York, who is to leave for the coast to join her mother Sunday. The day after tomorrow Miss Anna Barbour was hostess at a luncheon at the W. A. Barbour home in Piedmont for Miss Allen. Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Ward Higgins sent out invitations for a party to be given at the home of Miss Madeline Ross will give a luncheon in Piedmont, and the eve of Miss Allen's departure for the coast, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rich are to give a dinner dance at their home in San Francisco.

Cards have been sent out by Miss Dorothy Grissim, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Grissim, for a dance, which she is to give at the St. Francis hotel in San Francisco, for members of the Substantia set and their escorts, the evening of September 24th. Scarcely a day will pass this month and next but what some affair is planned for the dainty debutante, Miss Laura Miller, in whose honor Miss Grissim is to entertain.

Mrs. Mary G. Nelson, who has been away from Berkeley for the past year, will return again next week. She and her son, Niles Nelson, have been in Trinity and Shasta counties, attending to business interests the last year, of late making their home in Colusa. Before she left, Mrs. Nelson made her home at the Hotel Claremont. She has many friends in Berkeley and will be glad to know of her coming.

MISS EMMA BURLINSON McDONNELL, who is a niece of Postmaster General Burlinson of Washington, D. C., and is in her junior year at the University of California.

Visiting Here From New York

Mrs. John K. McGowan and daughters, the Misses Helen and Ted McGowan of New York City, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. E. J. McGowan for a few days. The Misses McGowan were graduated from Vassar college in New York in the class of 1919, and are now on an extensive trip, their itinerary covering the Canadian Rockies, Alaska, Yosemite Valley and California, returning to New York via southern California in October. McGowan is president of the California Telephone company and other allied interests of the Guggenheim Co. of New York, and is frequent visitor to the Pacific Coast.

BETROTHAL TOLD IN COLUSA

In Colusa a betrothal was announced last week which interests Eastbay friends and the university set. It was that of Miss Elizabeth Mogk and Richard Grover, former grandson of Mrs. Cynthia Grover. The news of the engagement was broken at a party given by the bride-elect's sister, Mrs. B. L. Brown at her home in Colusa.

Miss Mogk is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mogk, while the bridegroom-elect is a son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Power of San Francisco. During the war he served in the aviation branch of the army. Miss Mogk was a former University of California girl.

The guests at the luncheon were Mrs. E. A. Boyd, Mrs. George L. Mesick, Mrs. S. Crockett, Mrs. Max N. Verba, Mrs. H. M. Albery, Jr., Mrs. L. R. Boedfeldt, Mrs. L. E. Starkweather, Mrs. Roy Turner, Mrs. F. B. Arnold, Mrs. A. D. Tuttle, Miss Gertrude Boedfeldt, Miss Mildred Jackson, Miss Helen Harrington and Miss Rose Foundstone of Grimes.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Phibbs have returned from Del Monte and are at the Peralta apartments. Mrs. Phibbs's daughter, Miss Muriel Zahn, after a short stay in New York, left Saturday week on the Aquitania for Europe to spend several months abroad.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Thornton and family of Piedmont are motoring up the Russian river over the holiday and will entertain a few of their friends there.

A meeting of the Second section of the California Writers Club will be held Saturday, September 18, at 2:30 o'clock in the Young Women's Christian Association in Webster street. The date for the short story contest has been extended to September 12, and all manuscripts should be sent in before that time.

Friday, Mrs. Chesley John Roberts will entertain at tea for Mrs. Martin Wade, who is here to spend the winter with her parents. Mrs. Albert Hoenisch will share the honors that day, when the younger matrons will play bridge.

Mrs. Misses Sybil and Sylvia Conklin are to entertain Wednesday afternoon for Mrs. Wade, at their home in San Francisco.

TO LEAVE FOR LIVERPOOL

Miss Kathryn Thomas, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Hayward G. Thomas, will leave Thursday for Liverpool, England, where she is to take up welfare work in the British metropolis.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Woodward and their two sons motored last week to the Big Meadows and will be away for a fortnight. Woodward is local representative of the Western Power Co. of California.

'49'er Dies; Saw S. F. Burned Three Times

Petaluma, Sept. 6.—Charles Alexander Brooks, who for the past forty-two years has been a resident of the Ukiah valley, died Saturday. Brooks was prominently identified with the upbuilding of San Francisco, having arrived there in 1849 from his home in Rhode Island. He was a member of the famous Vigilance Committee, being purchased as No. 102 on that committee. Three times during his life he saw San Francisco burned to ashes, and as many times helped to rebuild it. He was 82 years of age.

Jewel Thief, Who Fled Quentin, Taken

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6.—Extradition papers for Richard A. Palmer, jewel thief, who made a number of rich hauls in San Francisco hotels, and who escaped from San Quentin last year, were asked today of the New York police, where he is being held. During March, 1919, Palmer is said to have stolen $20,000 in gems from guests at the Palace and Cliff hotels. His method was to take keys left by wealthy guests on the desk for the clerk and then to ransack the rooms.

21,000 WOMEN REGISTER

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 6.—More than 24,000 women have registered as voters in this state since laws were enacted for that purpose, at the special session of the Legislature last Tuesday, according to estimates here.

Amendment Urged to Appoint Police Judges

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6.—A charter amendment which would make the police judges appointive, raise their salaries and subject them to recall will be proposed to the Board of Supervisors on Wednesday by the Civil League of Improvement Clubs and Associations. Under the plan, which is intended to work a reform in the present methods, the judges would hold six year terms and are not eligible unless they have had five years' experience as practicing attorneys. The appointments are to be made by the mayor with confirmation by the electors at the next election. Three departments and a presiding judge who shall assign cases are provided for.

Japanese Desert Ships Here, Is Charge

Japanese freighters which arrive here with double crews and depart with but a slim complement of hands are supplying large numbers of Oriental laborers to the agricultural colonies of their countrymen in California, according to Edward White, commissioner of immigration.

The Japanese are given shore leave by seamen's cards and are said to be absorbed almost immediately by the agricultural districts, where they take assumed names and where it is almost impossible to find them. White charges that there is an organized gang operating in Tokyo and Canton and that aid is being given it by agents on board the freighters.

Sufferers from chafed or irritated skin will find relief in Resinol

Chafed, inflamed skin can be speedily and effectively healed by using Resinol Ointment. It cools the skin, stops the smarting, and reduces the inflammation almost immediately.

Russ Wait, Ill-Fated, Dies on Relief Ship

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6.—Elina Alexandrou, the Russian wait who was rescued from the bay by Patrolman Charles Mangels of San Francisco when she fell in while playing on pier 29 has died in New York, according to word just received here. She was one of 780 children who sailed from Siberia going around the world to Petrograd, stopping here en route. The sting of a poisonous insect while the ship was passing through the Panama canal is believed to be the cause of the little girl's death.

MANILA PAPERS MERGE

MANILA, Sept. 6.—The Philippines Herald, English language morning newspaper recently established in Manila, has purchased the "Cable-News American." The price announced was $100,000. The papers consolidated will be published hereafter as "The Philippines Herald and Cable-News."

Japan Rushing More Brides to America

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6.—Twenty-five more "picture brides" for Japanese men in the United States are on the way here on the T. K. K. liner Tenyo Maru, according to cable advice here, although the "picture bride" traffic was officially stopped by the "gentlemen's agreement" entered into between this nation and Japan early in last February. Brides continued to arrive after the agreement was in force and Japanese diplomats gave the explanation that passports already issued were good for six months. The six-month period elapsed in the middle of August, making this the first unexplained batch of Japanese brides to arrive.

The papers consolidated will be published hereafter as "The Philippines Herald and Cable-News."

Oaklanders to Join MacSwiney Protest

Oaklanders are planning to attend an "Irish Freedom" demonstration in favor of Mayor Terence MacSwiney, on a hunger strike in a British prison, which will be held in the Dreamland Rink in San Francisco tomorrow night.

Samuel M. Shortridge, Daniel C. Murphy, president of the California State Federation of Labor, Andrew J. Gallagher, Supervisor Richard J. Welch of San Francisco, Isidor A. Golden and others will speak. Shortridge will talk on "America's Concern in the Terence MacSwiney Tragedy." Paul Gerson will recite poems written by MacSwiney. George Harkins, deputy United States Internal Revenue Collector, will introduce resolutions. Gallagher will preside.

Messages of protest against British treatment of MacSwiney were sent to Premier Lloyd George, to President Wilson and to Secretary of State Coby yesterday by Supervisors Welch and Decian Hurton, past commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States.

Lumberman's Body Is Found in Forest

QUINCY, Sept. 6.—Sitting against a tree, the body of Nicholas F. Golden, lumberman and promoter, was found by a shepherd on the Long Valley creek trail near Cromberg. The inquest developed that death was due to heart failure. Golden was following the trail up Grizzly Ridge, inspecting timber, when death overtook him. The remains were held here for the arrival of his son, Harry, from Oakland, to arrange for the funeral. Golden came into this country fifteen years ago from Shasta county. His wife died several years ago.

Silent Motor BoatsRun Ram on Sound

TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 6.—New launches, equipped with underwater exhausts, to still their engines, have appeared among the boats used on Puget Sound according to Donald McDonald, Federal prohibition director for the state. These special boats are capable of making 22 knots an hour, McDonald said.

FIVE DIE IN CRASH.

FAIRMONT, N. Va., Sept. 6.—Five persons were killed and a score injured, some of them seriously, when a trolley car collided with a freight car carrying building materials near Baxter Station.

RESTAURATEURROBS HIS TILL*AS HELP SLEEP

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—Antonio Rakos, restaurant owner, robbed one of his own restaurants last night, when, upon passing it, he saw both the cashier and the chef asleep.

Several hours later the two employees informed a policeman three armed men had covered them and taken the cash register. "I could have carried out the counters if they hadn't been nailed down," said Rakos. "They're both fired."

News of theTheaters

ORPHEUM—A wide range of entertainment is offered in the week's Orpheum bill which is headlined with Levett's "Concentration," a telepathic act; dainty Marie Gaspar, a singer of unusually pleasing personality, and a one-act comedy of the prize ring entitled "The Champ." In addition Levett in his spiritualistic demonstration is Mlle. Zenda, a well-known scientist of strong telepathic powers. Other acts are: George Wilson and Ben Larson in acrobatic stunts, "The Snake and Victoria Allen," "The Small Town Wise Cracker," San Tucci, a cordologist, and the Four American Aces, acrobats.

YE LIBERTY—As crammed with action as a Fairbanks film, as dazzling as a Griffith baby-face scene, as abundant a laugh-producer as a Mack Sennett comedy—that partly described "Sisters of 1929," the new Fanchon and Marco show which opened for one week here yesterday. It is a satire of California's pet industry, the movies, set to music. Eva Clark is the prima donna. There are fifteen incidents and plenty of music and girls. Muriel Stryker of "Let's Go" fame is with the company. An extra matinee will be given on Monday day on Thursday in addition to the regular Saturday matinee.

FULTON—Yesterday was a great day at the Fulton Playhouse. Many important things happened. Paul Harvey came to town. Stanton, too is back. And more than that, a beautiful young lady, Catherine Buren, joined the company and scored strongly, and more yet it was Booth Tarkington's new comedy, "Clarence," that served as the vehicle. "Clarence" is an unusually funny comedy and is chock full of Tarkington humor. Lilian Harvey, one of the leading players, is playing opposite Paul Harvey. Others in the cast are: Frank Darnell, John Ivan, Charles Yale, Mary Hammond and George Taylor.

PANTAGES—Caesar, Antony and Cleopatra, the historic triangle of ancient Rome, are biblically portrayed in the headline act at the Pantages this week. Besides the comedy lines of the wet-and-dry debate between Antony and Caesar, the darling crown of a comely Cleopatra, leave nothing to be desired in the way of a headline act. "Submarine F-7" is also on the bill, its reproduction of the scenes inside a sinking submarine, making it one of the most remarkable mechanical acts on the vaudeville stage. The bill includes a number of other numbers among them being Harvey, Kory and Gray, in a brass band trio and a comedy offering "At the Training Quarters."

COLUMBIA—Another scintillating vaudeville revue entitled "Adam and Eve" was offered at the Columbia theater yesterday afternoon. The play is a lively farce comedy taken from the French and brought up to the minute. It is alive with laughable situations and the music introduced is tuneful and well selected. Eddie Gilbert and Harry Harrison provide the principal comedy. The leading hits of the musical program are: "So Long, Go-Long," by Grandvoisin Evans, "Allah's Holidis," by Blanche Ensign, "In Watermelon Time," by Betty Lee, and "Fashions," by Babe Arnold.

T. AND D.—Mildred Harris Chaplin in "Polly of the Storm Country," heads a bill at the T. and D. this week. The story is from the book by Grace Miller White and the picture is one of the first National productions. Mildred portrays a Wyoming squatter's daughter. "Tom Mix" monopolizes the second portion of the screen bill appearing in "Three Gold Coins." The picture is replete with thrilling stunts, the climax coming when Mix shoots a desperado from his hero's mouth. The vaudeville team is furnished by the Tivoli male quartet.

AMERICAN—"Madame X" of tragic and dramatic history lives again this week at the American where the celebrated character of the legendary stage is portrayed by Pauline Frederick in an unusual feature film. On the same bill "The Miracle of St. Clement" a romance of wealth and modern society is offered. It is a film of gripping interest. Booked for next week is "The Penalty," Governor Morris' remarkable tale of "Blizzard" ruler of San Francisco's underworld.

KINEMA—"The Right to Love," the latest production of George Fitzmaurice which is said even to excel his "On With the Dance," is the feature film at the Kinema this week. The cast is headed by Mae Murray and David Powell. The lavish scenes are laid in the luxurious home of the English representative at Constantinople where the young American wife of the diplomat is forced to live under the same roof with her husband's "other woman." The comedy element in the bill is well handled by Mr. and Mrs. Carter DeLaven in "Vacation Time."

FRANKLIN—Captivating Bebe Daniels is scoring big in the screen version of the "Man from Blankley's" now playing at the Franklin under the screen title, "The Fourteenth Man." The story centers around Captain Gordon whose chivalry caused him to flee from England to avoid the consequences of a brawl with his superior officer. He encounters Marjory Seaton in New York's artist colony and an adventurous romance follows. "Her Naughty Wink," a Sunshine Beauty Maid comedy supplements the bill.

BROADWAY—Jack Dempsey holds attraction at the Broadway again today in the second episode of the champion's thriller, "Devil Jack." Each episode is complete in itself and not only shows Dempsey in action as he appeared today in the ring against Billy Miske at Benton Harbor, but contains a sequence of events that blends romance and thrills. The same program today offers Tom Mix in "Desert Love" and a Christie Comedy, "The Lightweight Lover."

ARCADIA—Continuous dancing will feature Labor Day at the Arcadia dancing pavilion starting at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Two new musical stars greet the holiday crowd in the persons of Jack Prentice, the dancing violinist, here from New York and Edward Frisell, the foremost jazz cornetist of the coast. Tonight is also solo souvenir day at Arcadia and attractive remembrances will be presented to all dancers, afternoon and evening. Another matinee dance is planned for Admission Day, Thursday.

IDORA PARK—Two feature attractions, another big wrestling tournament and a stunt swimming circus, were featured yesterday at Idora Park to the thousands who made Idora Park their recreation center. Several hundred thrilling fans flocked to the free park stadium at 2 o'clock for the wrestling program, which brought to the coast the best of the San Francisco wrestlers in three matches. Those interested in swimming found the big outdoor pool and inland beach their source of amusement, and witnessed a special program of feature and stunt swimming arranged by instructor Kendrick. The usual afternoon and evening concerts were staged by Payson and his band.

WATER DISTRICT SOUGHT. LAKEPORT, Sept. 6.—Plans for the inclusion of the entire acreage of Lake county into a water conservation district, in order that the county may derive revenue from its water and hydro-electric resources, have been presented to the Board of Supervisors by W. H. Hazel, an attorney, and C. F. May, an engineer.

SIX KILLED IN WRECK. FAIRMONT, N. Va., Sept. 6.—Five persons were killed and a score injured, some of them seriously, yesterday when a trolley car collided with a freight car carrying building material, near Baxter Station.

Teller Hearing IsScheduled Tomorrow

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6.—In spite of efforts that are being made to delay the hearing before the State Board of Control of the charges brought by Carleton Johnson against Robert Teller, State printer, the inquiry will start tomorrow morning, according to Clyde L. Seavy, member of the board. Johnson is in San Francisco today interviewing a number of persons who, he says, will be witnesses.

A straight demand for a Saturday half-holiday, a protest against alleged outside activities of the State printer as detrimental to the efficiency of the office, and a charge that some of the employees of the printing office drew pay for serving as enclaves to legislators and officials, will be made, according to Johnson.

SHIBUSAWA IS VISCOUNT.

TOKYO, Sept. 6 (by the Associated Press).—Baron Eiichi Shibusawa, president of the American-Japanese Association, has been promoted in rank to a viscount. It is understood the honor is based particularly upon the practical contributions he has made toward maintaining friendly relations between America and Japan.

Lemon Industry Hurtby Italian Exchange

SANTA BARBARA, Sept. 6.—Competition from Italy and the increased freight rates have caused an acute crisis which is facing California's lemon industry according to James Bires, manager of a local fruit company.

On account of the high exchange of United States money in Italian lire and the present low tariff of one-half cent per pound makes it possible for Italians and Sicilians to sell their lemons in American markets below the cost of producing the California lemons.

It is stated that the Italian grower who sells a box of lemons at $2 in New York has more than $6 when he has exchanged his money into Italian money. Growers here assert that a box of California lemons costs approximately $3 to produce, and upon adding the present freight rate of $1.45 per box to New York, the cost of their product in that city is about $4.45 per box.

A method of using the electric magnet under water has been devised in Japan, and promises to be of great assistance in locating sunken vessels.

8-FOOT, 9-INCHGIANT IS LOST*IN WINDY CITY

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—John Aason of Numedahl, Norway, who is eight feet and nine inches tall and weighs 503 pounds, walked into a police station yesterday and confided that he was lost. The police captain directed him to his hotel. Aason is with a carnival company and came to Chicago to buy clothes.

Wilton Rugs Reduced---

After all there's nothing that looks and wears so well as an all-wool Wilton Rug. Though they have been very high priced for several years the sales in them have mounted steadily, for wise women knew that a Wilton rug would last the lifetime of the ordinary family.

Consequently it's good news that Wilton rugs have been reduced. With the exception of several makes where the manufacturer sets the resale price, we have made substantial reductions in all of our Wilton rugs. We have never had such a large stock on hand, and you will have a wide variety to choose from. Get that living or dining-room rug you've been wishing for.

MRS. WM. P. SMITH of Los Angeles, who says Taniae completely restored her health when no one believed she would ever be well again. Has gained thirteen pounds.

"I will never stop praising Taniae for it has restored my health when everyone who knew of my dreadful condition had no idea I would ever get well."

"Two years ago, following an accident, I began suffering from indigestion and severe stomach trouble. I grew worse so rapidly that my health soon became perfectly wrecked. My stomach became so weak I couldn't eat the simplest food or even drink a glass of milk without suffering for hours afterward. I was extremely nervous, and would have palpitation of the heart so badly at times I would almost faint. My circulation was very poor. I had no color, and weighed only eighty-one pounds. I seemed to be just gradually starving by degrees, and I had almost given up hope."

"After the best medical treatment failed to help me, travel and change of surroundings was advised. So I traveled nearly all over the United States and had treatment every place I went, but always with the same disappointing results. How I stood my suffering is more than I can tell, and I became so despondent that life seemed hardly worth living."

"That is just the condition I was in when I began taking Taniae. When my husband first suggested Taniae I told him I had no faith in it, but the next day he bought me a bottle, and to my great surprise it seemed to agree with me, so I kept on taking it. The results speak for themselves."

"I have gained thirteen pounds in weight, and I feel perfectly well in every way. My appetite is splendid and I eat just anything I want, and never have the slightest symptom of indigestion. I am so happy over the recovery of my health that I feel just like telling everybody about this wonderful medicine."

The above remarkable statement was made recently by Mrs. William P. Smith, a well known and highly respected resident of Los Angeles, Calif., residing at 139 East Avenue 84.

Taniae is sold in Oakland and San Francisco by the Oak Drug Stores and by every quantity dealer. Alameda.—Advertisement.

HIGHER MASONIC DEGREES GIVEN AT EUREKA CONCLAVE

EUREKA, Sept. 6.—Communication of the fourth to eighteenth degrees to sixty-nine candidates, who came from points within a radius of 100 miles of Eureka, several from Brookings, Ore., by Oakland Lodge of Perfection No. 1, and Gethsemane Chapter No. 2, Knights of the Rose Croix, marked the first and second days of the second convention and reunion of the Oakland bodies of Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite Free Masonry, now in progress here.

More than 225 officers, delegates and candidates were in attendance upon the impressive convocations of Saturday night and Sunday night. Today, Demolay Council No. 2, Knights of the Rose Croix, will communicate the Philosophical and Chivalric degrees, nineteenth to thirtieth, and tonight Oakland Consistory No. 2 will communicate the ceremonial and official degrees, thirty-first and thirty-second.

Following the communication of the thirty-second degree a banquet will be given all visiting Masons at 11 p. m. by the Humboldt Scottish Rite Club.

The convocation and reunion will be continued over Tuesday, when more than 100 Shriners, accompanied by Auxiliary Temple band, will be present to participate in the street parade and ceremonies put on for the benefit of the public, at which time the Shriners promise citizens of Humboldt a thrilling entertainment long to be remembered—particularly by the hundred or more candidates who will be the star performers therein.

With the ratification by the thirty-sixth state of the woman suffrage amendment, about 27,000,000 women will be entitled to vote in the United States.

West Oakland Americanization Work Planned by "Y" Women

Children of Young Women's Christian Association International Institute Kindergarten.

New Citizenship Schedule Is Arranged by Mrs. E. P. James, Executive Secretary

Down in West Oakland the babel of tongues is to be eliminated and women and girls will speak together through the medium of English if the present program of the International Institute of the Young Women's Christian Association prevails. The new citizenship schedule which stresses friendship in every-day living is now being arranged by Mrs. Edwin Funt James, executive secretary.

Mrs. James, after an absence of six weeks which was spent at Columbia University, New York, studying under Professor Goldberger, Americanization expert, has resumed direction of the West Oakland institute. During her absence the work was carried on by Miss Clara Newell.

Sewing classes and kindergarten classes will be carried on in the headquarters at Ninth and Wood streets. Foreign clubs will be featured throughout the year. The staff of the International Institute includes: Miss Teresa Guerrero, working among the Spanish and Portuguese women; Mrs. Julia Lucia, Italian worker, and Miss Mine Sakamoto, who is conducting a Japanese center and Japanese women's club.

The merchants of Oakland are going to restore the buying power to the good old DOLLAR on that day. Plan to be at the "BARGAIN FEAST." The crowd will come from near and far.

Theater Party Given for Lass of Eleven

The eleventh birthday of Miss Dorothy Lossman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lossman, was celebrated by a theater party, followed by a dinner Saturday afternoon and evening. Mrs. Paul Lossman presided over the affair, assisted by Mrs. May Ayres. The unusual present were: Alberta Blair, Florida May Tyrrel, Sylvia Smith, Evelyn Rowell, Elmore Vaughn, Pearl Marshall, Catherine Mulquerry, Norma Hylen, Ingleborg Hylen and Dorothy Lossman.

CAPT. DE MERRITT, ENGINEER, DIES

BERKELEY, Sept. 6.—Captain Hayden Lewis de Merritt, aged 70, who for thirty years had been an engineer of the United States rivers and harbor service for the San Francisco, Sacramento and San Joaquin harbor work, died this morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Alma Dinspelt, 5555 Oak Grove avenue, Oakland.

Captain de Merritt, who was a native of Rhode Island, came to Berkeley twenty years ago. He was a member of the Berkeley lodge of Masons, which will have charge of his funeral Wednesday.

The captain was with the geodetic survey in Nevada before coming to California. He is survived by five children—Reno E. de Merritt, who is in the government service; Hubert O. de Merritt, an engineer; Fenn Allen de Merritt, of Crockett; Hayden de Merritt, Jr., and the daughter with whom he has been living.

Mrs. Hannah Larson, aged 52, of 1909 1/2 Haste street, died Sunday at a local sanitarium. Her son was one of the first Berkeley boys killed in the world war, and it is said that Mrs. Larson never fully recovered from the shock of the death. She is survived by another son, Harry Larson. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at a local undertaking parlor.

MAN IN NIGHTIE AIDS IN ARREST

A nightgown chase in the early morning hours, the theft of fourteen pounds of peanut candy, a holdup and several minor burglaries comprise the record of over-Sunday crimes in Oakland.

Augustin F. Daly, 1328 East Fourteenth street, is in jail as a result of a pursuit by J. V. Muesel, man, who says that he surprised Daly going through his clothes. A number of men joined in the chase before the capture and Daly was taken to the police station. Muesel, a man who was clad in a nightgown, jumped out at him from behind a tree and that he ran because of terror and not of guilt. Muesel, a business man at 918 Clay street.

Victor de Lorme reported that a burglar has cleaned out his wardrobe once more and that his strategy in moving from one rooming place to another had proved of no avail. The visit was the third within a few weeks.

Fourteen pounds of peanut candy was the loot of a thief who entered the factory of A. E. McFarlin, 5717 Shafter avenue, Saturday night.

A man who wore the uniform of a sailor knocked down W. H. Hollingsworth, 1171 Hopkins street, Saturday night after the latter had refused a request for 50 cents.

William Kern, who disappeared from his home in Oakland, who is said to have met a wife and family, has been arrested by the Oakland police. It is charged that he took with him from his home city $3500.

Columbus Knights Attend Pilgrimage

Knights of Columbus of Oakland, San Francisco, Gilroy, Hollister, Watsonville and Monterey attended the pilgrimage to Santa Cruz Sunday.

The visitors, forming a parade with the local crowd, marched to Holy Cross church for a high requiem mass celebrated by Rev. P. J. E. Reilly, and afterward a fish dinner was served at the Holy Cross convent. Last night, public prayer was held at the Odd Fellows hall.

Police Looking for Gas Battering Ram

The police are looking for a battering-ram automobile which careened down the Foothill boulevard at Sixty-seventh avenue last night, pulled up a fire hydrant by the roots, flushed the street with a flood of water, careened off the curb, pushed over a couple of young trees and headed onward to whatever destination it was headed for. It is asserted that the guilty automobile has been traced, and the hunters are being searched for its owner.

Prof. Paul Ramirez to Be Center Speaker

Professor Paul Ramirez of the University of Chile, now lecturing on Spanish-American history at the University of California, will be the principal speaker at the Spanish Center tomorrow evening. Meetings are held in the Alden public library, Telegraph avenue and Fifty-second street, at 7:30 p. m. and are public. Students of the Spanish language are especially invited.

They did me a world of good and I will always speak a good word for them. For sale by Osgood Bros. Drug Stores.—Advertisement."

LOCKWOOD BAND WINS AT FAIR

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 6.—Oakland's Lockwood School juvenile band for the second time in its history has won the first prize of $400 in the annual band contest of the California State Fair. The Oakland school boys made 90 percent in the competition.

More than 20,000 attended the second day of the fair yesterday, which was devoted to the annual competitive concert of bands with a total of $1000 in prizes. The Sacramento Elk band won the highest prize in the professional group.

In the contest of juvenile amateurs the San Francisco I. O. T. C. band was given second place and the Sacramento Boys' Band third. Filippo Dellepiano, a graduate of the Royal Conservatory of Rome, was the judge.

FAIR EXHIBITS
Twenty-seven counties were represented in the exhibits in the main agricultural hall alone, where fruits, vegetables and grains of infinite variety were displayed. The livestock and horticultural exhibits are said to be greater and of finer quality than at any previous fair.

Today is Sacramento Day at the fair.

A delegation of 200 members of the Chamber of Commerce is sought by the Trade Extension committee of that body to attend Oakland Day at the California State Fair at Sacramento next Sunday. A special train carrying Oaklanders will be run over the Sacramento Short Line, according to the plans of the committee. The special train leaves Fortieth street and Shafter avenue at 7:50 a. m., Sunday, and will arrive at Sacramento at the Third and K streets station at 10:30.

BADGES FOR VISITORS
Oakland badges will be distributed to all Oaklanders on the train to be worn at the fair. Persons driving

Dame Nature Ends Spring Controversy

City Attorney Hagan was instructed to investigate the complaint of Mrs. Joann Miller and Juanita Miller, daughter of the "poet of the Sierras," that campers at Camp Chindrella were making too heavy a drain upon a spring which also feeds the Miller home. Just as Hagan was preparing to render a legal opinion Dame Nature stepped in and settled the matter. The spring went dry.

Release for Women who Suffer

The multitude of American women who suffer terribly day after day and year after year from ills peculiar to their sex is almost beyond belief—yet there is hardly a town or hamlet in the United States wherein some woman, and often many, do not reside who have been restored to health from some of the worst forms of female ills, and often avoided operations by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

These Two Women Tell of Their Experience.

Carrollton, Ky.—"I suffered almost two years with female weakness. I could not walk any distance, ride or take any exercise at all without resting. If I swept the floor or did any kind of work it would bring my sickness on. I was weak and languid, had no energy, and life was a misery to me. I was under the care of a good physician for several months and tried other remedies. I had read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it. After taking twelve bottles I found myself much improved and I took six more. I have never had any more trouble in that respect since. I have done all kinds of work and at present am an attendant at a State Hospital and am feeling fine. I shall always recommend your Vegetable Compound."—LILLIAN THARP, 824 South 8th Street, Carrollton, Ky.

Onalaska, Wis.—"Every month I had such pains in my back and lower part of stomach I could not lie in bed. I suffered so it seemed as though I would die, and I was not regular either. I suffered for a year and was unfit to do my housework, could only wash dishes once in a while. I read an advertisement of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other women and decided to try it. It surely did wonders for me. I have no pains now and can do my own housework without any trouble at all. I will always praise your medicine as I do not believe there is a doctor that can do as much good for female weakness as can Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and you may use these facts as a testimonial."—MRS. LESTER E. WARNER, R. 1, Box 69, Onalaska, Wis.

HEART and HUSBAND

by ADELE GARRISON

The Way Dicky Believed an Embarrassing Situation

Major Grantland was not enough accustomed to feminine badinage to turn the accusation off gracefully. He rushed into the breach clumsily, earnestly, his every word a palpable falsehood.

"I was calling Mrs. Graham's attention to those wonderful gladioli," he said stiffly.

"Oh, yes, I saw them," my little neighbor returned, a stifled laugh in her tones. And then, whether under coercion from Lillian or from her own volition, she was silent for fully ten minutes while the car rolled along the winding boulevard leading to the shore.

We passed many cars, some of the occupants of which we knew. Presently little Mrs. Durkee uttered a little scream of surprise.

"Look—look!" she called, pointing to a car coming toward us. "If there aren't Dicky and Alf and the Fairfax girls I'll get my new fur turban."

As my vision cleared, Mrs. Durkee's pointing finger I saw that her eyes had served her unerringly, that the occupants of the car coming toward us, now passing us, were indeed her husband and Edith and Lella Fairfax.

Absorbed in conversation they had almost shot by us when Edith Fairfax in the tonneau beside Lella leaned forward abruptly with what was evidently a sharp exclamation. At the same instant little Mrs. Durkee called out gayly, insistently:

"Alf! Alf!" Her son threw up one hand in recognition, but neither he nor Maj. Grantland could easily stop or turn just at that point because of the number of cars on the road. As soon as possible, however, the other drew his car up close to the curb, shut off his engine, and we all turned round to see Alfred backing and turning the other car far down the road, and then coming toward us with slackened speed, what brought it to a standstill just behind the one we were in, and I was cattily friendly enough to rejoice in the swift, sudden comparison of the two machines which I saw in all four faces in the other car.

Alfred Durkee was the first to speak. The Fairfax girls are too reserved, too well bred for the shouting comments which Maj. Browne, for instance, would have indulged in the unexpected meeting. And Dicky! Well, I had never seen my husband look quite so uncomfortable as he did in this moment!

His eyes had sized mine, wandered to the figure of Maj. Grantland beside me, then had come back to mine again with a gaze in which were mingled astonishment, resentment and more than a little shamefacedness, as he realized, I fancy, from my face, that I knew of the enjoyable motor excursions during my enforced idleness.

"What's the big idea?" Alfred Durkee called to his mother as he jumped from the driving seat to the ground. "I thought the stage was all set for you to be at the old home-stead gate in gingham apron and with one eye on your pocket watch, looking around you ready to welcome son, prospective relatives and such excess baggage as the Dicky-bird."

MRS. DURKEE'S DEFENSE. Little Mrs. Durkee laughed, wholly unembarrassed by this revelation that she had known of the proposed motor drive from New York.

"Well, you said you wanted to say 'surprise, surprise' to the rest of us, didn't you?" she defended herself. "So when I was offered a chance to play gooseberry upon a most delightful auto ride in this most scrumptious lot of all cars, who else could I do but wind the clock, put out the cat and leave a note on the door saying I would be back anon. I couldn't say, 'No, kind people, I must stay to welcome my fam-lee,' could I now?"

Everybody save Dicky and Maj. Grantland laughed at her ridiculous farrago, delivered with the pretty, confident, poised manner of a young woman of her type are always able to carry off successfully whether they be 16 or 60, and which, alas, makes so supremely ridiculous the women of our time, no matter what their age, when they attempt it. But neither my husband nor the man sitting beside me smiled even faintly at her nonsense. I think the attention of both was keenly caught by the word gooseberry, which I felt resentfully in Dicky's parlance "was surely being worked

Don't Prod Your Liver to Action

MR. Overcomes Biliaryness, Constipation, Sick Headache, Bitchiness, No Griping or Pain. Guaranteed.

The organs of digestion, assimilation and elimination—the stomach, liver and bowels—are closely allied, and the proper action of each organ is largely dependent upon the correct functioning of all the others. "Whipping" your liver into action with calomel or forcing your bowels with irritating laxatives or strong cathartics is a great mistake. Better, safer plan is strengthening and toning the whole digestive and eliminative system with Nature's Remedy (OR Tablets), which not only bring immediate relief, but genuine and lasting benefit. It cleans the stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys, improves digestion and assimilation, overcomes biliousness, corrects constipation and quickens sick headache. Get your system thoroughly cleansed and purified for once; stomach, liver and bowels working together in vigorous harmony, and you will not have to take medicine every day—just take one OR Tablet once a day. Keep your system in good condition and always feel your best. Remember it is easier and cheaper to keep well than it is to get well.

Get a 25c box and try it with the understanding that it must give you greater relief and better action than any bowel or liver medicine you ever used or will pay. Nature's Remedy (OR Tablets) is sold by druggists and recommended by your druggist.

"Actually, a hoo!" repeated Mrs. Kinsolving pathetically. Mrs. Bellmore, because she was not sure which it was, she intended to study him a little longer, unless she forgot the matter. He was only shy, she would abandon him for shyness is a bore. If he was deep, she would also abandon him, for depth is precarious.

On the afternoon of the third day of her visit, Terence hunted up Mrs. Bellmore, and found her in a book actually looking at an album. "It's so good of you," said he, "to come down here and relieve the day for us. I suppose you have heard that Mrs. Fischer-Sumppkins scuttled the ship before she left. She knocked a whole piazza out of the bottom with a hoo! My mother is grieving herself all about it. Can't you manage to see a ship for us while you are here, Mrs. Bellmore—a bang-up, awe-inspiring, with a coronet on her head and a check look under her arm?"

"That was a naughty old lady, Terence," said Mrs. Bellmore. "To tell such stories. Perhaps you say her too much supper. Your mother doesn't really take it seriously, does she?"

"I think she does," answered Terence. "One would think every brick in the hoo had dropped on her head. But she's a good mammy, and I don't like to worry her. It's to be hoped that the ghost belongs to the hoo-carriers' union, and will go out on a strike. If he doesn't, there will be a hoo in the house."

"I'm sleeping in the ghost-hoo," said Mrs. Bellmore, seriously. "I hope the impersonal pronoun is correct. But why did you say I was responsible?"

"Because you are the only living male relative of the ghost," said Terence. "I see. 'Unto the third and fourth generation.' But, seriously, did it—how did you—"

"I was asleep, and that is what awakened me. I'm almost certain."

"Well, I awake just as—oh, can't you understand what I mean? Who anything arouses you suddenly you are not positive whether you dreamed or—and yet you know that—Dear me, Terence, must I discuss the most elementary sensations in order to accommodate your extremely practical intelligence?"

"But, about kissing ghosts, you know," said Terence humbly. "I require the most practical instruction I never kissed a ghost. Is it—is it—"

"The sensation," said Mrs. Bellmore, with deliberate, but slightly smiling, emphasis, "since you are seeking instruction, is a mingling of the material and the spiritual."

"Of course," said Terence, suddenly growing serious. "It was a dream or some kind of an hallucination. No, no, no, I don't think of it that way. If you told me the tale out of kindness of heart, Mrs. Bellmore, I can't express how grateful I am to you. It has made my mother supremely happy. That revolutionary ancestor was a stunning idea."

"The usual fate of hostesses is mine," she said, resignedly. "My privileged encounter with a spirit is attributed to water said or mendacity. Well, I have at least, one memory left from the wreck of Bowerly."

"You could have heard a tomato drop when Hardin's nomination was received here. What's become of the girl that hung up her mother's apron string, and what's become of the apron?"

HERBS CURE WHEN OPERATION FAILS

Deafness and buzzing in the ears were cured by Y. L. Chan, herbist, in six weeks, after a painful operation by an American doctor had failed. The patient was Hartman Bauman, Nevada mining man, living at 2833 McAllister street, San Francisco. Bauman's testimony as to his case is as follows:

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: After having suffered from deafness and buzzing in my ears for four years, during which time I received no relief from doctors in my home at Austin, Nevada, where I was a mining operator, I came for treatment to a leading San Francisco hospital. Here I underwent an operation and remained for a week. After being removed from the hospital I lay unconscious for two days at my home in San Francisco. I was told that this was the result of my operation. Having got no relief from my trouble, I went to Y. L. Chan, herb specialist with whom I had been for six weeks. At the end of that time I was completely cured. My hearing is perfect and the buzzing noises are gone. I feel fine in every way.

I suppose I ought to be ashamed to confess," said Mrs. Bellmore, who was now enjoying her breakfast. "I wasn't very much disturbed. I presume it would have been the customary thing to scream and faint, and have all of your running about in picturesque costumes. But, after the first alarm was over, I really

"I asked you to sit down, Terence. If you are not going to do so, obey me. I shall report in the morning that I saw a ghost wearing an apron and carrying a check look. Now, that is better. To be shy, at your age, Terence, is a thing that you should blush to acknowledge."

At breakfast on the last morning of her visit, Mrs. Bellmore started and entranced every one present by announcing positively that she had seen the ghost.

"Did it have a—?" Mrs. Kinsolving, in her suspense and agitation, could not bring out the word. "No, indeed—far from it."

"There was a chorus of questions from others at the table. 'What did it do?' 'How did it look?' 'How was it dressed?' 'Did it say anything?' 'Didn't you scream?'"

"I'll try to answer everything at once," said Mrs. Bellmore heroically. "Although I'm frightfully forgetful, something awakened me—I'm not sure whether it was a noise or a touch, and there stood the phantom. I never burn a light at night, so the room was quite dark, but I saw it plainly. I wasn't dreaming. It was head to foot. It wore the full dress of the old Colonial days—powdered hair, baggy coat skirts, lace ruffles and a sword. It looked intangible and luminous in the dark, and moved with a sound. Yes, I was a little frightened at first—or startled. I should say. It was the first ghost I had ever seen. No, it didn't say anything. I didn't scream. It came up on my elbow, and then it glided silently away, and disappeared when it reached the door."

Mrs. Kinsolving was in the seventh heaven. The description is that of Captain Kinsolving, of General Greene's army, one of our ancestors, she said, in a voice that trembled with pride and relief. "I really think I must apologize for our ghostly relative, Mrs. Bellmore. I am afraid he must have badly disturbed your rest."

"I suppose I ought to be ashamed to confess," said Mrs. Bellmore, who was now enjoying her breakfast. "I wasn't very much disturbed. I presume it would have been the customary thing to scream and faint, and have all of your running about in picturesque costumes. But, after the first alarm was over, I really

Just skimmed another swell Camel ad! Stop this: Guess I've smoked a million Camels! Pete, they never tired my taste yet!!!! And, old socks, put Camels to the test! Then you'll wise up that Camels bear no unpleasant cigarette aftertaste nor unpleasant cigarette odor!

That's some smoke news, I'll say, when you been trying to fuss the 'straight' brands! And, old shor, you ought to know, they gave you a racing!

What makes a dent on my disposition is that while Camels are the mildest cigarette and the mellowest cigarette any man can buy they've got all the 'body' you ever heard tell of!

Why Pete, I've got as many new selling ideas about Camels as there are hairs on a puss-kitty's tail!

CONSISTENCY IS A JEWEL

Mayor Frank Otis of Alameda, who had the temerity to ask for information at the meeting of the consolidation promoters, is boldly accused by a local newspaper of doing business in San Francisco.

As the paper in question is owned and controlled in San Francisco and distributed only with a San Francisco newspaper, and all its paychecks come from across the bay, the consistency of the manager of the Oakland branch house might be open to discussion.

HOME BUILDING.

Oakland realty transfers were unusually large in number and value during the month of August. Property transferred was valued at approximately $5,000,000, according to the official record, and permits were issued for building operations involving an expenditure of nearly $700,000. In the last thirty days 1705 deeds were recorded. Building permits numbered 438, of which 92 were for home buildings. In the week just past, ended September 4, 120 permits were issued, involving $100,000 expenditure for homes.

A survey of operations, based on figures furnished by the Oakland Real Estate Board and by individual realty operators, shows that there is an unprecedented activity on the part of home-seekers. In all of the several new home site tracts that have been advertised and made the subject of a sales campaign there has been an unexpectedly large number of persons to inspect the property, and also an unusually large number of actual buyers of home sites. Another gratifying feature has been the large amount, in the aggregate, of first payments. In many cases the purchasers have not contented themselves with merely meeting the terms offered by the owners, but have made a larger initial payment.

This extensive buying of home sites presages an increase in home building in the Eastbay district. And home building and ownership is one of the strongest indications of community prosperity and permanency. A city of home owners is a contented community, with the minimum of temporary residents.

It is true that the scarcity of homes for rent and the excessive rentals demanded, when compared with rates of a year ago, is forcing many persons to consider the purchase of a home or the purchase of a site and the building of a residence. But the larger influence, and the more encouraging, is apparently the prosperity of people with a tendency toward economy who have saved money to gratify the natural wish to own their own home.

Other cities have acute housing problems and a marked scarcity of homes when measured by the number and tastes of applicants, but no other city in California has reported so much activity in the sale of home sites and in home building as is being now recorded in Oakland.

When the German super-dreadnaught battleship Ostfriesland steamed into New York harbor the other day flying the Stars and Stripes a new incident in American history was recorded. This battleship was surrendered by Germany under the terms of the peace treaty as a part of the price of her defeat in the great war and was allotted by the Allies as the share of the United States in the victory. The Ostfriesland was the flagship in the battle of Jutland. She is a mighty warship, but naval experts claim her operation as a unit of the American navy would be impossible. Moreover, the peace treaty provides that she must be destroyed within a year. Before long, therefore, the mighty Ostfriesland, hope of the former kaiser and Admiral von Tirpitz, will be a target for American sailors in their big gun practice and will be sent to the bottom of the sea, shot full of holes.

Moving booze in quantity nowadays seems to necessitate safeguards much as gold did when it was a commodity. The eighteen barrels of liquor recently taken to San Francisco, where it was wanted as "evidence," were guarded by armed officers. Eighteen barrels constitute a bulk that, one would suppose, could not be readily spirited away, but so many disappearances of such exhibits have taken place that precautions are found to be advisable. This form of spirit appears to have taken on ethereal qualities since July 1, 1920. It may be started on a journey in barrel formation, to vanish, presto, as a prestidigitator's appliance.

EL PASO SPEAKS UP.

The El Paso Chamber of Commerce last week adopted resolutions urging the government at Washington to extend official recognition to the government headed by President De la Huerta in Mexico. It urged this action as being in accordance with the accepted principles of international policy and asked that recognition be declared at the earliest possible moment.

Reasons were given by the El Paso business community for making this request upon President Wilson. They believe that the present government of the Mexican republic is actuated by the highest and best motives and intentions and by a sincere desire to establish peace and promote prosperity in Mexico, and to provide protection to the property and lives of foreigners within its borders. They hold that the new Mexican government has demonstrated its ability to maintain law and order, and believing this, they look to the new regime to promote the prosperity and happiness of the citizens of Mexico and of American citizens who dwell along the border of the republic. They hope that such a government will endure and will be given every possible chance to accompany an unstable and selfish factional government in Mexico.

The people of El Paso are practical. They are close to the scene of the past seven years of Mexican anarchy. They know what revolution and uncontrolled banditti means in loss of peace of mind and in armed depredations on American territory along the Rio Grande. Hence when they observe an apparently honest and competent government attain control in Mexico City they are anxious that it receive the friendly assistance of outside governments.

But the President and his advisers, who are, at least ought to be, also thoroughly acquainted with Mexican conditions, are not of the same mind. There is something in the way of forthright action regarding the De la Huerta government. No one can say just what it is. But the fact remains that although the new government, by the nature of its creation and its character and record, merits recognition and cooperation from the United States, no friendly word has been uttered for its benefit. Apparently the President has asked the European governments to hold off until he acts, because none of them have intimated an intention to recognize the De la Huerta regime.

It is possible, however, that the President has another friend in Mexico that he would prefer to see head the republic; or perhaps he has another John Lind to send to Mexico to sponsor so egregious a mistake as was the recognition of President Carranza. Maybe he thinks of reverting to his impossible and unwisely uttered policy of not recognizing any government in Spanish America which may be found in revolution. Whims seem to enter very largely into the conduct of our foreign affairs and apparently there is a whim in Mexico.

One has to admire the tenacious hold on life of Mme. Bernhardt. Scarcely had the despatch appeared stating that she was ill unto death when an announcement from her was published, assuring the American public that she will visit this country again before going hence. Aside from her great histrionic powers, such pluck would insure her a very hearty reception.

Sugar prices took another drop in New York this week. This probably will mean another effort on the part of the profiteering sugar dealers to induce the federal government to save them from loss of falling prices. This gentry hates to use any of the enormous profits accumulated when prices went up 200 percent.

TIDE OF IMMIGRATION TURNS.

Representatives of twenty-one transatlantic steamship companies who recently in the course of conference with the United States immigration commissioner at Ellis Island told the federal official that the weekly average of immigrants would soon reach 25,000 and might exceed that amount, made a prophecy precisely contrary to the one most commonly accepted about the time the armistice was signed. It was then forecast that for many years immigration would exceed immigration. Sociologists reasoned that new opportunities for development in Europe would attract aliens now temporarily resident among us to their homelands. Then, a little later, came the supposed added incentive of escape from prohibition. This was to complete our depopulation.

Now the predicted influx of 25,000 a week is taken literally. It will mean a few more than came when immigration reached high-water mark in 1907. In that year the number of immigrants was 1,235,349, a figure never exceeded before or since, although it was approached in 1914, when it was set down as 1,218,450. It dropped to negligible proportions during the war for obvious reasons, and might have been succeeded by an outward movement if shipping had been available. However, it is now plain that the peak of immigration has been reached and the steamship agents' predictions seem to be founded on inside data.

The situation suggests that there is less to be feared from a great immigration wave in the abstract than from our failure to prepare for it. We have before us the lessons of the recent past, the talk about Americanizing aliens in which we have indulged has been the product, at least in part, of a guilty conscience. There were many things that we were going to do by way of helping the melting pot to function. But if the Americanization of aliens movement ever amounts to anything the chance to prove itself will come when the immigration tide turns. The literary test promises to exercise a kind of selective influence, but it will not do everything. It would be as much a mistake to abandon the arrival of the next five years to their fate as similar neglect has been shown to be in the past.—Portland-Oregonian.

NOTES and COMMENT

The war publicity bureau cost the United States government the respectable sum of $248,218. It was under the direction of George Creel. He came high, and it might be informing if it were made plain just who felt that they had to have him.

The Washington Post is responsible for this version: "Colonel Bryan is content to damn the Democratic candidate with faint praise, and boost the Republican candidate with faint blame."

The encomiums published in memory of the late James Wilson, so long Secretary of Agriculture and who raised that department to a position of recognized importance, exemplify the fact that honest and able service, however unpretentious it may be, is sure of recognition. Politics put him out of office eight years ago after sixteen years of highly useful service, but it is interesting to realize how much more he impressed himself upon the country than his successor.

The Martinez Gazette suggests a celebration of a notable return: "Why not give the dear, honest old 'Spud' a fitting public reception in honor of its early and exclusive return from the realm of Highpriced? It certainly made a giddy attitude in its recent flight, but it is now back to its pre-war position with a pleading look in every one of its eyes for forgiveness. A potato banquet is in order."

Statistics have been compiled somewhere to the effect that 35,000,000 lives were lost by the war. However exact the figures are, the world loss of able-bodied men must be directly felt for a long period, and indirectly by the deterioration of succeeding generations, as in the period succeeding the Napoleonic wars.

The next thing awaited is an achievement that will bring a fame that approximates that of Babe Ruth. But the avenues in which one can excel in "home runs" are limited. It is not impossible, however, that somebody will discover a line of action in which he can do that which others cannot equal and thus become entitled to that glory for which so many are striving.

The Chicago plan of railroad sabotage is something unusual. Locomotives are fired up and turned loose. Recently collision with a passenger train was narrowly averted. It is difficult to account for the devilish spirit responsible for such acts.

A despatch has it that the war department has issued an order permitting men of the regular army to wear their own hats. This is a lot in the forthcoming election. The word "permit" in this connection is a bit revealing. The War Department is all powerful in some ways, especially as now administered, but it is not exact to say it "permits" the exercise of citizen rights.

The Salinas Index conditionally approves the porch campaign program. "The country has no objection to Mr. Harding's porch being the listening post on the one condition that he does not pick up any of those voices in the air which Mr. Wilson heard."

These law suits over grapes appear to result from a compound disturbance of the wine industry. At last vineyardists wanted to hold the wine associations to their contracts, supposing the market for wine grapes would be gone; but when excessive prices were offered, the wine association wanted to hold the vineyardists to their agreement.

SPIRIT of the STATE PRESS

The vote on Tuesday seemed to indicate that the electorate are not inclined to hold very strict party lines. Many Republicans seeking the Republican nomination were handsomely rewarded.—Marysville Appeal.

W. L. Crooks of Benicia is authority for the statement that the Southern Pacific Railroad company will construct the proposed line between Vallejo and Benicia within the next year. No date has been set for the starting of the construction work, due to the lack of decision as to which route to follow.—Shasta Courier.

Henry Cavagnero, speed cop of Napa county, has jointly filed with the State Compensation Insurance Commission a suit for $26,484 against Mrs. Esther Murphy and husband, Charles Murphy, of Oakland. The suit is a result of a collision between Cavagnero's motorcycle and Mrs. Murphy's machine on the Napa highway almost a year ago, when Cavagnero sustained a fractured skull and other injuries. Cavagnero's claim is that Mrs. Murphy stopped on the road to repair a tire and failed to park off the concrete highway.—Vacaville Reporter.

Applications for admittance at Stanford in October are even greater than last year, and you probably remember what a hopeless scramble there was then for rooming accommodations. There has been some building since last October, but it has not kept pace with the prospective increase in demand for shelter.—Palo Alto Times.

The record of the Chico factory of the Diamond Match company in leading during the month of July all the other plants of that concern in the quantity of matches produced suggests the erection in the city park of another Bartholdi statue dedicated to "Chico Enlightening America."—Chico Enterprise.

When Ignorance Was Cultivated.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—(Special Correspondence).—A chapter of Alaskan history which most Americans never have heard is revealed in a posthumous article by Andrew J. Stone, distinguished explorer and naturalist of boreal America, published in the September issue of The Century Magazine.

He recalls the early objections to the acquisition of Alaska, how it was accepted "without pleasure, without even cordiality," mainly to prevent any other nation acquiring it, and quotes some of the comment of the time.

"While the treaty of purchase was still under discussion, Benjamin F. Butler of Massachusetts said, 'If we are to pay this amount for Russia's friendship, I desire to give her the bitter to the expensive necessity of playing dog-in-the-manger with a country of snow and ice, fit only for Eskimo and polar bears.'"

In general, the people of the United States—as all can remember whose recollection antedates the gold rush—resigned themselves a trifle bitterly to the expensive necessity of playing dog-in-the-manger with a country of snow and ice, fit only for Eskimo and polar bears."

That this attitude of mind was carefully fostered, for interested reasons, Mr. Stone flatly states. He declares:

"The fur trade was largely responsible for this conception. It was enormously profitable, and the only way that the company could retain control of the fur business was by keeping white men out of the country; so for the first twenty-two of the fifty-odd years that we have owned Alaska, the American people heard only of terrible cold and desolation and of a fur business in the control of one concern—a situation in no way inviting to the white man."

But little by little information relating to the possibilities of wealth in Alaska leaked to the States. Little by little the imaginary walls crumbled. A mere handful of prospectors and adventurers crossed over the coast range of mountains in the southeast and plunged into the mighty wilderness beyond. Others followed; more and more ventured into the great valley of the Yukon. But they came with no thought of Alaska as a country in which to live and establish homes. They came with no thought of developing the wonderful wealth that surrounded them. Gold, not furs, was at the bottom of this new raid, for that is what it amounted to—a raid. And the raiders cared only to loot the country and again abandon it to natives and wild animals. Thousands and thousands of intelligent men found their way through magnificent forests, surrounded by beautiful scenery and did not go. They did not think of Alaska as an opportunity, but rather as a source of unearned riches."

Mr. Stone was probably better informed than is any living man on the subject of Alaskan natural resources; but he is chiefly concerned in this article with setting forth the little-known truth about Alaska as a region of the utmost graciousness, fertility, grandeur and beauty. From the eleven hundred islands of the Alexander Archipelago—some of them as large as the largest New England States, some heavily forested, some grandly mountainous—to the Fairweather Range on the mainland which, he says, is "one of the most beautiful spectacles on the face of the earth," and over the matchless hinterland, Mr. Stone finds endless beauty. "He speaks of the wonder of the glaciers, and the idea that these mean barren cold,

Mental Labor.
The golfer who was employing him was playing very badly and the caddy threw himself down on the grass at one point and watched him. When the man had at last succeeded in getting his ball out of the bunker he glanced towards the boy and remarked: "You must be tired, lying down at this time of day."
"I ain't tired of carrying," said the caddy, "but I certainly am tired of counting."—Boston Transcript.

Comparative Value.
"No, I'll keep your beastly ball. You've broken my window and half killed my boy with it."

ONE GRAM OF RADIUM.
Probably the record for large value in small compass was made by the single gram of radium, valued at $120,000, but sealed in a tiny tube for vespucet carriage, lately delivered by the United States bureau of standards to Arthur Roeder, a representative of the New York state institute for malignant diseases. It constituted, so Mr. Roeder said, the total extracted from 125 tons of ore.—Outlook.

LABOR DROPS TOIL TO SPEND OUTDOOR HOLIDAY

THOUSANDS FILL PARKS; WORKERS FETE FAMILIES

Celebration by workers of Alameda county and the friends of the workers' holiday, centered at two points today, Idora Park and Fernside Park at Niles.

The major celebration was at Idora where, under the direction of the Central Labor Council, with the Building and Metal Trades Councils co-operating, the crowds congregated all day. In this celebration the railway brotherhoods alone did not join.

The Niles excursion was that of the Oakland and Alameda shipyard workers, who started at 10 o'clock this morning on a special train from First and Broadway, and remained at Niles until 5:30 o'clock this afternoon.

DONOHUE DIRECTOR

Samuel Donohue of the Building Trades Council of Oakland was the director of the Idora games, speeches and entertainment. At 2 o'clock this afternoon a mass meeting of labor men and their friends was held at the park at which Louis Bartlett, mayor of Berkeley, was the chief speaker.

Mayor Louis Bartlett said: "I am glad to be the guest of the labor unions of Alameda county on this day, the day we celebrate the liberty of America, on the anniversary of the birthday of Lafayette, and on the day of the world anniversary of the battle of the Marne. This is the day that we take stock of the progress that is made in giving an equal opportunity to all. Labor Day. The labor movement is a movement for justice, and justice wears a changed aspect as a result."

A new conception of justice is emerging from the conflict between capital and labor, and both sides of the controversy are making definite and positive contributions. The labor-union movement, which has been groping its way for many decades, arose or became powerful when we were making a god of property and contract rights; when the theory that men are free to contract as they will was pushed to such an extreme that it threatened the welfare of the race.

Before and after the speaking the workers engaged in contests. Among these were a fat man's race, an egg and spoon race, a sack race and a snore race.

Sixteen events called forth contests in all. Of these the most unique and interesting was a match between teams from the structural iron workers' and the boiler makers' unions. The men in these teams demonstrated their dexterity at juggling while crowds looked on and applauded as the hot pieces of iron sailed with accuracy and lightning speed through the air to clink in the bottoms of deftly swung pails. Speed and accuracy were the points upon which the contestants were judged.

CHILDREN TAKE PART

The children were also given their part in all of these the most fun was noisy and long as watermelon and pie eaters devoured great slices.

Every organization in Alameda county was represented at the affair, which was estimated by the officials shortly after the celebration began.

The program of events prepared by the unions was augmented by the park management and for all there was swimming, roller skating, dancing and a lively welcome at the other concessions. Most of those who went to the park carried picnic baskets and boxes, remaining for at least one meal. Automobiles brought hundreds from the outlying regions.

The laborites indulged in no city

HAHA! MR. JONES IS MAN WHO WRECKED STATE-BRAND AUTO

With no progress reported in the search of the United States Department of Public Roads and of the Highway Commission of California for the mysterious man who looped the loop off of Buena Vista Avenue and Hill road in an automobile on August 28, suspicion is being directed by amateur detectives in the direction of Oakland's famous fade-out specialist, "Mr. Jones."

Who else, it is asked, could extricate himself from the wreckage, appear for one brief moment a swaying figure before the terrified beholders of the accident, and then disappear?

It is pointed out that it was Mr. Jones who took Captain Thorsvald's hands of the automobile.

"It was ours, but it isn't now," is the statement. "We turned it over to the Bureau of Public Roads and we don't know anything more about it."

The commission intimates that in rearing the car to the best of its abilities it feels its responsibilities are ended, and that it should not be taxed with the subsequent misbehavior of its former charge. It was a young flivver, it was pointed out, and one not used to the ways of the world.

BUREAU NON-COMMITAL

The Bureau of Public Roads approaches the solution in a non-committal way.

On the morning cars from the Highway Commission and we do loan them certain cars. One of our cars also was stolen, ran away, or was borrowed. We cannot say who was driving it or whether it was the car that was found in Oakland, but we are looking into the matter."

Those who saw the accident say the driver was drunk, that he flipped his arms under the impression that he was an eagle and that he swore like a parrot. They also say that he announced he was connected in an official capacity with highway work.

On the side of the car is painted: "State of California, No. 367, California Highway Commission."

parade or other formal demonstration to take the time and energies of the union men and their friends from their holiday.

The shivaree excursion to Niles was equally successful. It was estimated that more than 2000 were on the special Southern Pacific train this morning and that more than 500 more went to Niles in automobiles.

H. D. Anderson, who is industrial relations manager at the Moore shipyard, directed the excursion program and his assistants included William Brackett and John P. Johnson of the Union yard; L. H. Cronwell of the Moore yard, and Glen Williams, A. G. Cushman and William Kearns of the Oakland Y. M. C. A. Cronwell is credited with being the originator of the joint celebration.

BANDS ARE MERGED

Bands from the three shipyards were merged for the day into one large organization and kept Fernside ringing.

After the arrival the crowds were given until 1 o'clock to empty picnic baskets, after which athletic contests began. These were spirited because Oakland merchants had donated prizes, totaling nearly $1000, which were awarded to the winners.

The Y. M. C. A. representatives assisted in directing the games. The entertainment lasted until nearly 5:30 p. m. when the excursionists left Niles for Oakland.

Hundreds who did not participate in the formal celebrations picked up individually. Closing was general and there were many who left the

S. F. Union Labor Bans Parade on Its Day of Fun

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6.—Labor unions of this city, departing from the old custom of parading and otherwise indulging in public demonstrations, attempted to confine their Labor day efforts to pure entertainment of workers, providing what they termed a true holiday.

The Civic Auditorium was the center of the celebration. It was used at 10 o'clock this morning for an elaborate boxing carnival, in which members of the city's unions wore the gloves.

When the boxers were boxed out, a corps of men cleared the hall for the public Labor day ball, to begin this evening, free to all unionfolk and their friends.

P. H. McCarthy, who is president of the Building Trades Council, arranged the general celebration of the day and Dan White was to direct the ball.

Aside from these events, San Francisco's workers celebrated individually.

JAPAN TO SEEK COMPROMISE ON PROPOSED LAWS

By A. L. BRADFORD,
United Press Staff Correspondent.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Intervention by the United States government to prevent passage of the proposed California law for absolute prohibition of land holding by Japanese, will be demanded by Ambassador Shidehara in his negotiations with Secretary of State Colby. It was stated authoritatively today.

Shidehara, it is understood, will take the stand that as a basis of the negotiations the United States government, through the state department, must prevent the California measure from becoming a law.

Actual negotiations on the question have been opened between Colby and the Japanese ambassador. So far only "informal conversations" have been held, with a view of arriving at an agreement on general principles governing out of Japanese virtual control of the California measure. Colby went over the situation with Governor Stephens of California and is hopeful of an amicable settlement of the problem.

READY TO COMPROMISE

It is suggested that Japan might agree to a federal or state law in the United States prohibiting Japanese immigration to this country if the Japanese now in America are not discriminated against further. Japan contends, however, that immigration to the United States of an "open door" in China is in danger of being a barrier to Japan's absorbing her domain to absorb her overflowing population.

Wife Charges She Was Married Under Ether's Influence

Charging that Joseph Shelby Robbins forced her to marry him in Oakland February 16, 1918, while she was under the influence of ether and declaring that she did not alter the words of the marriage ceremony or know what she was doing, Mrs. Helen Quinn Robbins has instituted suit for annulment of her marriage in the superior court at Stockton.

Mrs. Robbins in her complaint declared that Robbins induced her to go out with him shortly after she had been released from the hospital, that he coerced her to marry him, that they met two of his friends on a ferry boat and that she was married by Justice Mortimer Smith in Oakland without realizing what was happening.

If the suit she claims that after the marriage they returned to her mother in the Argonaut Hotel in San Francisco and that since that time she and her husband have lived apart.

According to Mrs. Robbins, she was operated on in a San Francisco hospital in the morning and was married to Robbins in the afternoon.

Wife Revealed Him, Claim of Husband

After renting two or three different apartments during the investigation of his wife she refused to occupy them, but revealed him with improper language, says H. D. Farrow in a suit for divorce filed against Mrs. Minnie Farrow. The Farrowes were married in Seattle on December 20, 1911, and separated on July 20 last.

Besides charging technical desertion, John Gonsalves says that Mrs. Farrow has been guilty of such conduct as to make it impossible for the company of other women, situated in her earnings on expensive dinners instead of household expenses, and threatened to give her engagement ring to relatives.

Alleged Bad Check Passer Is Arrested

500 Virginia City Miners Drop Picks

RENO, Nev., Sept. 6.—Five hundred miners at Virginia City, Nev., forty miles from Reno, walked out today.

And Curly said it was the cutest picture he had ever seen of any baby this side of Broadway. "Meaning New York, of course," spoke up Jessie, before I had a chance to spill the beans.

That made me feel so good I wanted him to take all his clothes and dye them red to match his little hair, but Tessie put down her little foot on that—sometimes she has almost more sense than I have, but not very often. Anyhow, we gave Curly his little nightcap to be cleaned.

I thank you for today.

BOARD SUMMONS SCHOOL OFFICERS ON TAX MATTERS

Fred M. Hunter, superintendent of Oakland schools, members of the County Institutions Commission and officials of the Alameda County Health Center, have been summoned by the Board of Supervisors to appear before them tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock to explain the budget estimates asked from the county.

The Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda school departments have asked the Board of Supervisors to raise the county elementary school tax from 45 to 50 cents, the maximum allowed by law. It is understood this increase is asked with the view of granting increased salaries to teachers.

Spokesman for the Alameda County Teachers' Association, in appearing before the board recently, asked that the elementary school tax be raised to the maximum of 50 cents, stating this would allow an increased salary to teachers of about $60 a year.

The County Institutions Commission has presented a budget estimate for the present fiscal year of $1,445,624. This estimate is itemized as follows: County hospital, salaries and maintenance, $297,780; construction and betterment, $152,000; Arroyo sanitarium, salaries and maintenance, $144,033; construction and betterment, $46,800; the new Highland hospital of Alameda county, construction (present contracts), $309,000; contracts to be let, $500,000.

BANDITS STILL ELUDE ALAMEDA POLICE SEARCH

ALAMEDA, Sept. 6.—The two men alleged to have kidnaped Otto Jensen, messenger of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Company, Saturday, are still eluding the police.

The robbery, according to the report made to the Alameda police by the Alameda office of the company, was a most daring one. Jensen was carrying mail from the Potrero plant in San Francisco to the Alameda plant when he was held up.

He was crossing the Webster street bridge when two men in a Chevrolet car drove past. They told him to get in and thinking that they were going past the shipyard he did so. Instead, the machine turned off the street and Jensen was blindfolded. The men returned to Oakland where they released Jensen after opening the mail which he carried.

SEWING, alone, is seldom a task for women.

It is the combination of housework, cooking, and the hard physical labor of pedaling a machine that tires you beyond endurance.

But take away the hard work of sewing—as electricity is taking the labor out of all housework—and you have left only the joy of creating crisp, fresh garments at such a low cost!

Have you tried sewing the WESTERN ELECTRIC way? It will be a pleasure to you—as it will be a pleasure to us to show you this and other machines which save time and energy for women—whether you wish to buy or not.
